

DON HANCOCK FOR STATE SENATE

DON

Don Hancock, Senate Candidate, District 3, of the Independent American Party says a very important side effect of the Watergate affair has been an increasing attitude of cynicism on the part of the American people. I hope this attitude does not prevail. You have important elections to consider in November. It is foolish and dangerous to treat this election with an indifferent shrug.

We are finding that the growing number of bureaucrats are beginning to completely tie our hands. The federal appointees supersede the authority of both locally elected officials and locally enacted laws. Much worse than this they violate our Constitutional rights. Too much power is gravitating to Washington into the hands of an unresponsive, arrogant, and well entrenched bureaucracy. Red tape by the government stifles incentive and expansion in the free market. We thus have fewer jobs, less productivity, higher prices, and bigger government. We candidates of the I.A.P. believe we should get back to limiting government and not the people. We say tie the hands of the politicians and not the producers. We insist on INDEPENDENCE and not INTERDEPENDENCE.

To accomplish this independence, the I.A.P. proposes the FREEDOM PROTECTION ACT which would make it a criminal offense for any federal, state or local official to lie to or violate the Constitutional rights of a Nevada citizen. Those convicted would receive a mandatory jail sentence. When the I.R.S. agent violates your Constitutional rights under this law, he would be tried in court and if convicted, he would go to jail. He would not pass go and collect $200.00 but he would go directly to jail. With this law on the books, we will again see an America and State of Nevada we can be proud of.

The Voluntary Action Center, located at 319 South Third Street is helping hundreds of handicapped children and adults splash their way to water safety in the newly organized swim program designed for physically and mentally handicapped people at Helen J. Stewart School, 2375 Viking Road.
