PLO RECOGNIZED (Continued from Page 1)

nor a functional partition. What they propose is that all Jews who came to the country before 1917 can stay and all those who came after 1917 must leave."

Foreign Minister Yigal Allon met with U.S. Ambassador Kenneth Keating for what was said to be an initial assessment of the situation. Meanwhile in Washington, the U. S. government seemed to be hinting that it would accept the PLO as a participant in future negotiations on the Mideast. President Ford said the Administration has not yet made a firm decision on the PLO status.

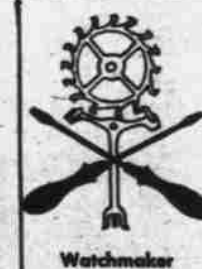

In New York, Mrs. Faye Schenk, newly-elected chairman of the American Zionist Federation, said the Rabat decision "constitutes a setback for Secretary Kissinger's efforts, a setback for those moderate Arab forces who are not bent on Israel's destruction, and most ominously a major setback for peace in the Middle East."

Dr. Joseph P. Sternstein, president of the Zionist Organization of America, said the development in Rabat "Unmistakably signals a rejection by the Arabs of any intention of working seriously toward a negotiated settlement."

In Bangladesh where he was visiting, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said he did not believe the Arab summit meeting had foreclosed further Arab-Israeli peace talks. He said he would meet with Arab leaders to determine how best to proceed.

Meanwhile reports from Beirut said that four extremist terrorist groups -- the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, headed by George Habash; the Iraqi-backed Arab Liberation front; the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, and the Popular Struggle Front -- have rejected the decision recognizing the PLO. These groups reject any negotiations with Israel and say they will agree only to a secular Palestine state embracing the pre-1948 borders.

NEW YORK -- Commenting today on the invitation by the U.N. General Assembly to the so-called "Palestine Liberation Organization," Harold M. Jacobs, President of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America, denounced the PLO as "a malignant cancer, cynically maintained by the Arab oil cartel and the communists to perpetuate the misery of hundreds of thousands of Arab refugees and to murder innocent civilians."

YOU HAVE ONLY 3 CHOICES

A good mechanic
A bad mechanic
Or no mechanic at all

And with watches, it's no different than with cars.

Our WYLER watches come from Switzerland where they believe in built-in quality. Not flash, not gimmicks. Just constant quality performance.

But if your WYLER ever needs servicing, you've got the best mechanic in town. We are recognized watch professionals—and all the genuine WYLER parts are right here.

So don't get taken. Like a fine car, a fine watch must come from a reliable dealer, who will give you honest value. Like cars, WYLERS come in a choice of models starting at only $39.95. All with written guarantees—the factory's and our own. As a matter of fact, we wear WYLER watches ourselves.
