DR. STERN GETS 8 YEARS IN USSR

NEW YORK (WNS) -- A Ukrainian court has sentenced Dr. Mikhail Stern, the Vinnitsa Jewish endocrinologist, to eight years in prison and confiscated his property on 10 counts of taking bribes in return for medical favors and 15 counts of bilking patients by selling them medicine at inflated prices.

Jewish sources in the Soviet Union reported that Dr. Stern's defense attorney, David Akselbaut, planned to appeal the sentence which the court ordered served in a "strengthened" regime labor camp. Dr. Stern, 56, pleaded not guilty on all charges.

Jewish activists in the Soviet Union and abroad have charged that Dr. Stern was a victim of Soviet reprisals for planning to emigrate with his sons to Israel.

In New York the sentence was denounced by leaders in the Soviet Jewry movement. Stanley H. Lowell, chairman of the National Conference on Soviet Jewry, noted that the prosecution "could not even produce witnesses" to "testify as to Dr. Stern's alleged guilt." He said the Stern case proved that there was "an organized effort on the part of the Soviet regime to frighten Jews who wish to leave" for Israel. Eugene Gold, chairman of the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry, and the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry, both noted that witnesses against Dr. Stern had said he was innocent when they testified in court. Gold said his group had asked Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to intervene and was urging members of Congress "to speak out against this mockery of justice."

The SSSJ has sent a cable to Soviet Health Minister Boris Petrovsky demanding immediate medical care for Dr. Stern, who suffers from pulmonary tuberculosis and a stomach ulcer.

Meanwhile, Jewish sources in the Soviet Union reported that the Supreme Court of the Belorussian Republic has dismissed the appeal of Mikhail Leviev, a Moscow Jew accused of alleged economic crimes, and confirmed the death sentence imposed on him by the Moscow City Court. His wife was reported distraught because President Nilotai Podgorny, in response to her appeal, had said the case would be reopened thereby temporarily staying the execution. Leviev's lawyer has now appealed the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union.
