RABIN REAFFIRMS ISRAELI SUPPORT IN KISSINGER'S STEP-BY-STEP APPROACH

LATE NEWS

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- DR. NAHUM GOLDMANN WAS OVERWHELMINGLY RE-ELECTED AS PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD JEWISH CONGRESS DESPITE THE BITTER OPPOSITION OF HERUT.

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- THE VINNELL CORP., A LOS ANGELES CONSTRUCTION COMPANY, HAS RECEIVED A $77 MILLION CONTRACT FROM THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT TO TRAIN SAUDI ARABIA'S 26,000 - MAN NATIONAL GUARD.

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- EDWARD H. LEVI HAS BEEN SWORN IN AS ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE UNITED STATES, THE FIRST JEW TO HOLD THAT POSITION AND THIS TO HEAD THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

RABIN URGES RUSSIA RECOGNIZE ISRAEL

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Premier Yitzhak Rabin has called upon the Soviet Union to end its policy of no diplomatic relations with Israel if it wants "to play a meaningful role in the Middle East."

The Premier made his remarks in Eilat to 450 members of an Israel

Bond Organization delegation from the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe.

"The Russians can travel from Damascus to Cairo but they have to learn from the Americans that they cannot have an influence in the area unless they are able to talk to both sides in the Middle East conflict," Rabin declared. "It is high time for the Soviet Union to stop ignoring Israel."

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Premier Yitzhak Rabin told the 500 delegates to the Sixth Plenary Assembly of the World Jewish Congress that Israel fully supports Secretary of State Kissinger's step-by-step approach as the "best and most realistic method" of working toward a settlement of the Middle East conflict.

Rabin said Israel would question Kissinger as to the significance of recent public statements by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat that neither Egypt nor Syria are planning to attack Israel. He said if Sadat is sincere his pledge should be incorporated into a formal written agreement with Israel. If Sadat did this, Rabin said, it would represent "a new opening... a great chance" for progress toward a full peace settlement in the Middle East.

Meanwhile in Washington, Kissinger said his nine-day visit to the Middle East and West Europe culminating with talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Geneva will be "one of exploration. I don't expect to settle anything on this trip."

Kissinger is scheduled to go to Israel, Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Bonn and then meet with Gromyko in Geneva. Gromyko has just completed a visit to Syria, Iraq and Egypt.

At the WJC session, Rabin said if Kissinger's step-by-step approach failed, there would be no alternative but to go to Geneva peace conference. He said even if the American approach failed, Israel would have re-enforced its relations with Washington and the military strengthening of Israel would continue.

Earlier Rabin told the Knesset that Israel's military strength has increased substantially since the Yom Kippur War and even if Egypt received the weapons it has requested from the Soviet Union, the balance of power would not become worse this year.

Bad Greenspun

Good and bad can be said about Sun Publisher Hank Greenspun. Let's talk about the bad.

Anything less than the highest standards in a newspaper publisher is an abuse to his rights of a free press under the U.S. Constitution. We single out Greenspun's bad because he has the lowest standards we have ever encountered during a lifetime in the profession.

Is it not degrading for a newspaper publisher to call the voters immoral after they elected a U. S. Senator? We do not know of anyone else, including those who are defeated at the polls, who will not publicly accept the will of the people. Certainly, no other writer has ever committed this un-American form of atrocity. Not to our knowledge.

Think this one over. Have you ever, in your entire life, heard or read a self-serving declaration of being the most honest man in a large gathering? Greenspun did. We've heard persons proclaim and defend their own honesty. But to volunteer, without even being asked, that he is "more honest" than all others is demeaning to the role of newspaper publisher, especially one who admitted he had sinned and erred. A confession to a murder is also an honest commitment, but ugly.

Is it not insulting for a daily newspaper in this day and age to foist on its readers a front page story proclaiming to the world it had received an award from a high school class? Greenspun's paper did it with a headline, Sun Voted Best, in color no less.

Not long ago Greenspun stated if he was under oath, being cross-examined on the witness stand and was asked certain questions he would punch the questioner in the face. On a previous occasion, when Greenspun himself was in the witness box, he blurted out to the cross examiner: "Don't ask me that question. You'll be sorry if you do." This from a newspaper publisher, no less, who also happens to be a lawyer.

Greenspun's most recent eruption came about because a network television show about the life of Howard Hughes deleted an interview with Greenspun. According to the producer of the show Greenspun's portion was eliminated completely because the network and an insurance company considered the material libelous.

The show, entitled "In Search of Howard Hughes," and labeled an unauthorized biography, was a fascinating depiction of one of the most outstanding success stories in American history. Not only did Hughes run a half million into more than two billion, but in doing so he established a reputation as a rugged indivi-
