

New Testament Raps Jews

NEW YORK (WUP -- Dr. Dagobert D. Runes, editor-Publisher of The Philosophical Library and author of a score of philosophical-historical works including "The Jew and the Cross," has just published his latest work entitled "Let My People Live," a work in which he discloses that "the Christian Bible, commonly referred to as the New Testament, contains 102 references to the Jews or the Hebrew people of most degrading, malevolent and libelous kind.

Such references, Dr. Runes notes, "creates in the minds and hearts of the Christian children and Christian adults ineradicable hatred towards the Jewish people."

Indignant as to the great harm that the hate passages had brought upon Jews around the world, scholar Runes says that the "Christian Bible is the first and forever hateful maligner of the Jewish people -- indeed, the only fundamental religious text that is dedicated to the destruction of a single people. No other text," he adds, "be it the Koran, Vedas, or the Analects of Confucius, bears hate toward a single people in its pages.

"This hatred has brought about during the last two thousand years the killing of almost ten million members of the Jewish race and nation. My wish, with this composition," Dr. Runes continues, "is to prevail upon the Christian people, especially the theologians, teachers and clergymen among them, to work for the elimination of these ugly anti-Semitic references from the Christian Bible. Whatever merit there is to the Christian Gospels, the vitriolic anti-Semitic statements in their texts tend to destroy it."

In ferreting out the most glaring hate references in his little 73-page volume, Dr. Runes comes to the conclusion that "the new Testament is the most vicious anti-Semitic play in history surpassing Mein Kampf or the Protocols of Zion."

The book is preceded by the following captioned "Instead of a Preface":

"The one and only Pope ever to speak out in behalf of the Jews, Pope John XXIII before his death has composed a Prayer of Repentance in which this true vicar of Christ begged God's forgiveness for the untold suffering brought upon the Jewish nation by the members of the Catholic Church. On his deathbed, the Pontiff urged that this prayer be said in all Catholic places of worship. Up to now, this has not been done; the good Pope's wish should be neglected no longer.

Letter To The Editor:
(Edited for space).

I was just sitting here thinking again, pondering, you know, on March 8 the National League of Families with MIA's & POW's in South East Asia held a Freedom Walk from the Federal Building in Las Vegas to the VA Clinic in Henderson (which was closed, it being Saturday). 7 of the 10 persons who made the walk have no relatives who are MIA's. But they care. They care enough to walk 13.3 miles to show it. They were speaking out publicly to say they want the MIA's accounted for as Hanoi promised the U.S. they would be.

The Representatives of Congressman Santini, Senator Cannon, Senator Laxalt and Governor O'Callaghan himself were invited personally to come down and say 'Hello' if not participate. Many other public officials were invited.

None came. Not one Representative of or a public official showed up! The press did.

How can the U. S. Government expect the people to fight for it when it shows it will abandon them, as it is doing now to the MIA's?

Once again, thanks.
