ENTERTAINMENT TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

DICK MCINNES

BARBRA STREISAND may be happy with the end result in "Funny Lady" but there is one lady involved who doesn't think that it's that funny. ELEANOR HOLM, the ex-wife of BILLY ROSE (JAMES CAAN in the film) is livid over the way she's portrayed in the latest FANNY BRICE biopic. In fact, Eleanor may sue for defamation of character. Holm acidly remarked that "the only funny thing in the movie is the relationship between Fanny and Rose and that's laughable."

DIANA TRASK knocked them dead out at the Palomino Club in North Hollywood recently. Trask who is fast becoming THE COUNTRY WOMEN, not only with her dynamite talent but with her super sexy look, sang them all and sang them well. A special treat was when she sang "Waltzing Mathilda" and brought the house to their feet. What a woman.

MICKEY ROONEY must believe that love is better the 8th time around. His divorce from number 7 isn't final yet but he has found number 8 already. She's the owner of a beauty salon in Fort Lauderdale and has two children. The Mick says, "I really believe in marriage and I'm going to keep trying it until I get it right."

Look for CHER to make another bid for movie superstardom now that she's firmly in the TV firmament. She's about to sign for a feature film set to start shooting this summer called "Manhattan, 1930." Cher will be a sort of LILLION ROTH/HELEN MORGAN type chanteuse who mixes it up with the high and low life of Broadway.

For a truly wonderful record trip, go buy BARBARA COOK AT CARNEGIE HALL on Columbia Records. Barbara, in case you don't know her, was a bright up and coming Broadway star who was Marian in "The Music Man," starred in "The Gay Life," "She Loves Me" and "Plain and Fancy" among other musicals. She's a little older and a lot heavier but her voice is better than ever. I used to have Barbara Cook festivals and would play all her shows all night. Now I have a super addition to my collection. Thanks Barbara and Columbia.

LIZ TAYLOR who probably doesn't have to worry about her next million is an heiress again. Ex-hubby NICKY HILTON obviously never fully recovered from old lavender eyes and when he passed away, he made a healthy stipulation in his will for Liz. After many years in litigation, the bequest is now a reality. Now she'll never get rid of that used car salesman.

I saw a bright, young comic at the Roxy the other night. His name is LARRY BREEZER and he is a trip! His specialty? He is a human sound effects record. He makes the most extraordinary sounds with his mouth that I've ever heard. I know it sounds a bit bizarre but he is really funny. Las Vegas take note, he'd really open the show. Put him together with RICH LITTLE and you have an entire spectacular starring two very funny men, playing and being all parts.

Have a wonderful week. You deserve it.

Ladies if you like to play Volleyball come to the Las Vegas Recreation Department's Doolittle Center each Monday and Wednesday morning 10:30 A.M. to 12 Noon. 386-6374.

A two-day hiking trip through the Virgin River Narrows will be the final challenge for a month-long course in advanced backpacking starting May 6 at UNLV.
