

JEWISH NEWS BRIEFS

UNITED NATIONS (WUP) -- Zaydan Attashi, an Arab-speaking Druze, has been appointed to serve with the Israeli UN Mission. It was announced here by Ambassador Chaim Herzog.

UNITED NATIONS (WUP) -- The United Nations Blue Book has listed Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization under the caption: "Other Organizations which have received a standing invitation from the General Assembly to participate in the sessions and work of the General Assembly as Observers." The address given for the PLO New York headquarters is 101 Park Avenue, Room 311.

LONDON (WNS) -- The International Federation of Cotton and Allied Textile Industries has cancelled its conference due to be held in Bombay in November because the Indian government has refused to admit Israelis.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- The strike by 4000 workers of Israel Discount Bank which has shut down the bank's 150 branches may disrupt Israel's entire banking system if it is not ended soon, according to officials here.

LONDON (WNS) -- Prime Minister Harold Wilson has justified the British government's refusal not to withdraw visas to representatives of the Palestine Liberation Organization who will attend the Inter-Parliamentary Union Conference here next month, on the grounds that the invitation to the PLO was an IPU responsibility.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Assa Kadmoni, who received Israel's highest award for bravery for his heroism at the Suez Canal during the Yom Kippur War, has returned the medal to the government to protest the interim agreement being worked out with Egypt because he charges it will perpetuate the war not bring peace.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Three Arab terrorists who had infiltrated Israeli territory from Lebanon were killed in a fierce gun battle.

BONN (WNS) -- Heinz Galinski, chairman of the West Berlin Jewish community, narrowly escaped death from a parcel bomb mailed to his office in the West Berlin Jewish Community Center.

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Yosef Almogi, Mayor of Haifa, former Labor Minister and Labor Party "Strongman", is being mentioned prominently as a likely successor to the late Pinhas Sapir as chairman of the Jewish Agency and World Zionist Organizations Executives. But Leon Dulzin, treasurer of the Jewish Agency/WZO and now acting chairman, said he will fight for the post.

NEW YORK (WNS) -- A consumer protection law which benefits kashrut observers has been signed by Gov. Hugh Carey. The law states that only the manufacturer or packer of a product may affix labels certifying kosher or kosher for Passover.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- An Austrian army officer who was sent back to Austria and dishonorably discharged for taking a 19-year-old Israeli woman soldier on a ride into Syrian territory is now in Israel and says he wants to convert and marry the woman he loves.

DETROIT (WNS) -- Police are investigating two incidents within three weeks of a rash of anti-Semitic graffiti, abusive references to Jews and swastikas which were painted on the fountain in Grand Circus Park and on several public buildings in the downtown area.

NEW YORK -- On October 3-5, the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion, the oldest Jewish seminary in North America, will launch its centennial year with a special "news" oriented weekend for members of the press at the historic campus in Cincinnati.

LONDON (WNS) -- The world scouts jamboree's youth forum which ended in Norway recently, refused to accept an Arab motion to accept the Palestine Liberation Organization's "Palestine Scouts" movement into the scouting movement.
