ALL ABOUT
U.S.Y.

Last Saturday night at Temple Beth Sholom, I participated in what I thought was one of the most organized events that the temple ever had. It was the Bicentennial program. There were eight of us who marched down the aisle of the main sanctuary holding American flags and dressed in blue and white. The eight people were Bonnie Tell, Jay Herman, Amy Katz, Billy Mason, Tammy Gelbart, Andy Katz, Nancy Katz, and Niel Friedman. Kay Wallerstein produced the hour long presentation which depicted the importance of the Jew in the 200 year history of the United States.

Following our presentation, U.S.Y., B.B.G. and A.Z.A. went into the gym, first to sing songs and then Eddie Feinstein conducted a 15 minute Silichot Service. After that everyone played basketball, volley ball or frizbees and danced Israeli numbers. We ate falafa, which is a standard Israeli food like we consider hamburgers. All the fun ended about 2:30 A.M. Jr. U.S.Y. is having a membership drive Sunday, September 21. We urge all Jewish kids from the ages of 11-13 to come and have fun, also to see what U.S.Y. is about. Keep reading this column to find out more about the drive. See ya!
