How About Plight Of Jewish Refugees ?

Anti-Israel propagandists have shed a great deal of crocodile tears over the years about the plight of the Palestinian refugees. But little has been heard about another group of refugees, the Jews from Arab lands who had to flee their homes leaving behind most of their possessions.

Their plight has not been taken up by international bodies perhaps because, unlike the Palestinians, most of whom were forced to stay in refugee camps by their fellow Arabs, the Jewish refugees sought to make a new life for themselves in Israel, France and elsewhere. But now with the intensified assault on Zionism and Jews in the United States, the time has come to remind the world that the Palestinians are not the only ones to have become refugees as a result of a Middle East conflict.

That is why it is good news to hear from Paris that Jews from Arab countries will meet there at the end of the month to form a new group, the World Organization of Jews from Arab Countries (WOJAC). WOJAC's organizers stress that the group's objective is to strive for peace in the Middle East by recognizing the legitimate rights of Jews from Arab countries in the spirit of the UN Security Council Resolution 242 which calls for "a just solution of the refugee problem."

As the organizers point out 800,000 Jews fled the Arab countries of the Middle East and North Africa as compared to 590,000 Arabs who left Israel. There has been much talk about Israel's responsibility for compensation to the Palestinians. But no one mentions that the Arab states might have a similar obligation to the Jews who were forced to flee leaving most of their possessions behind.

Maybe when Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said at the National Press Club in Washington that until 1952 the Jews dominated Egypt's economy, someone should have asked if Egypt is ready to compensate Jews for their possessions confiscated when they fled that country.

Arab U.N. Onslaught

UNITED NATIONS (U.N.) -- The current intensified Arab attack upon Zionism and the Jewish State in the General Assembly and in the several Committees is fraught with all the perilous elements which served as the basis of the Palestinian-Islamic onslaught against World Jewry during the dramatic struggle that culminated in the narrow-margin victory on Partition a generation ago.

Ever since that historic occasion, resulting in the establishment of the State of Israel, the malcontent Arabs and their partners-in-crime have never given up the hope of reversing the UN decision on Partition. Enjoying the full support of the 'tyranny of the majority' which legalized the murderous PLO, they have chosen this month of November in a desperate attempt

What they failed to accomplish, diplomatically, in 1947, and militarily, in 1948, 1956, 1967 and 1973, they now believe they may be able to get by way of a world organization beholden to them. One thing will evolve this November, Israel and world Jewry will know who their real friends are. They are not many, but they are also not few.

November is an historic month for Israel and her enemies know this only too well. The Balfour Declaration was issued on November 2, 1917, and on November 29, 1947, the three-year-old United Nations placed its seal of approval on Jewish sovereignty. The Arabs never accepted these two historic decisions. Yasir Arafat's spokesman at this session, Farouk Kaddoumy, in addressing the Assembly last week, was completely open on this point.

Said the PLO terrorist: "Our people sincerely hope that this session will adopt a decisive measure to impose penalties on Israel, including a review of its membership in the United Nations. We also hope that the UN will form a special committee to combat Zionism, to curtail its activities and put an end to its crimes, in the same way it combated fascism, nazism, and all other anti-human ideologies." He termed the Balfour Declaration "a permanent blot of shame in the history of humanity."

Kaddoumy told the Assembly that the date of November 2, 1917, "has been struck out from our Palestinian calendar and replaced by the day 70 friendly states (in the Third Committee) stood together boldly to condemn Zionism as an oppressive, racist, backward and dangerous ideology... This condemnation confirmed that the democratic state in Palestine is the only true vision..."

In plain words, he called for the elimination of Israel and the establishment of a secular 'democratic' Arab-ruled state on all of Palestine replacing the State of Israel--and the UN was all ears. That he actually meant the undoing of Israel was further borne out by a reply he gave later in the week to a Jewish correspondent who asked him whether he believed that Tel Aviv was in 'occupied territory.' He gave an emphatic 'Yes!'

Ambassador Chaim Herzog, realizing what he was up against in this PLO-Arab-infested Assembly, rebutted with a masterful exposition unmasking the true face of the UN-legitimized murderers of Ma'alot and Kiryat Shemonah. He opened his scathing address by declaring that "nothing could illustrate the depth to which this Organization has been dragged down than the current debate which is taking place... I know only too well," he told the delegates, "that we shall be subjected to a flood of meaning-

City met in front of the Isaiah Wall near the U.N. and denounced the resolution as "a blatant power play on the part of some Arab nations and warned of a new era of anti-Semitism."

Twenty eight Black American intellectuals asked the removal of the resolution because it will heavily compromise African hopes of expunging apartheid from the world conscience.

Reverend Malcom Boyd, Episcopalian Priest said the resolution endangers the very existence of the Jewish people, the Jewish faith, Jewish culture and Jewishness itself. He said Christians have to do more than support the right of Jews to exist as a free people. Rev. Boyd said Jew-baiting is an ancient vice. Christians must make a public commitment of a deep and unequivocal involvement in the Jewish fate, and place all Christian resources behind Jewish survival.

Labor, industry, capitol and education came out strong against the resolution.

Of course, Jewish leaders had their say. In Israel, Premier Rabin said the U.N. General Assembly has lost all validity. Ex-Premier Golda Meir called on all Jews everywhere to demonstrate, without qualification, they are Zionists. The Israeli Ambassador to the U.S. called the resolution a scrap of paper and tore it to shreds before the Assemblage.

Defense Minister Peres said future negotiations with Egypt become more complicated.

Rabbi Alexander Schindler, president of Union of American Hebrew Congregations said its "the beginning of the end of a beautiful dream, for we will witness the moral collapse"

It was pointed out from several sources that most of the nations that voted for the resolution do not even know the meaning of the word racism. It is a well known fact that racism is flagrant in Russia and Uganda.

All the above are just the opening blasts, spoken within a few hours after the resolution was passed. Just wait until the American public becomes fully informed of all the ramifications of the vile act. Support for Israel will come in bunches from sources before most indifferent to the plight of the Jews.

This could be the 'tax on tea that started Revolutionary War, the firing on Fort Sumpter that brought on the Civil War, the sinking of the Maine, the torpedoing of the Lusitania, the attack on Pearl Harbor.

We are not suggesting the American public will be aroused to the extent of those pointed out that started wars, but we feel the pulse of the public discarding empathy in behalf of Israel.

It's just a case of bums taking in too much territory. They didn't know when to quit. It could be the turning point.

less vituperation and hate...I know that the bulk of the time in this Assembly during this whole month of November...will be to castigating Israel."

He scored the world body for devoting a major portion of its time to "a recurrent and incessant outpouring of hate and vilification of vituperation and slander which already dulls the wits and impresses nobody. If this is the purpose for which the world body was established?" he asked. "Have the freedoms which have been trampled upon and the wrongs inflicted upon countless millions daily in this world been righted so that you can devote so much time and such a proportion of your budget, to listen to this incredible barrage of rancor and malice during the whole of the coming month?"

Continuing in his bitter criticism of the UN, he made it plain that the world body had "been dragged down by a handful of extremists who have imposed their will on the Assembly, whose diatribes," he told the delegates, "you hear day in, day out, whose half-baked pseudo historical discourses you will have to listen to for hours on end. To this level have we been dragged down and our intelligence insulted because this Assembly has not had the courage to stand up and say -- 'Enough?'
