JOHNNY TILLOTSON "COUNTRY" SHOW AT LANDMARK

Take a pop / country song, set it to music with an electric piano, bass, guitar and drums (that makes up a band called Slippery When Wet) and put it into motion with the voice and personality of one of the most exciting recording artist and performers in the country, and you come up with the Johnny Tillotson Show currently playing the Landmark's Jubilee Showroom.

JOHNNY

If "Something's Up At the Landmark" then Tillotson's show is one strong something. The tempo is up and the excitement runs high all the way. Whatever Mr. T. presents, be it a trip down nostalgia road with a few of the 23 hits which made the top 40 on the charts for him -- tunes like "Poetry In Motion," "It Keeps Right On A'Hurtin'" and "Send Me The Pillow That You Dream On" -- or some of the latest writings of Mack Davis and Loggins, he accomplishes exactly what he came for, to give the audience what they came for -- entertainment.

Donn Arden's "Pzazz", the "Folies Bergere", Barry Ashton's "Revue Royale de Paris" and others, have decided to return full time to show biz and have reformed their team and act. Frank and Denise, who just closed with JOEY BISHOP at the Sahara, will be back with Joey & Co. in June. The Agostinos recently guested with The Fifth Dimension at the Hilton, and with Sammy Davis, Jr. at Harrah's. The team split for more than a year, has an all new act with some 'classic' segments intact including Agostino's famous "Roman Chair" wherein he lifts his beautiful partner straight into the air starting from a bent over backwards upside down position and ends standing upright. It's not only an amazing feat of sheer strength it is also a one of a kind -- the "Chair" has been an Agostino specialty for generations. Both Vegas residents, Denise and Frank are talking now with several spectacular show producers about signing for a long indefinite engagement. The Agostinos were one of the specialty stars of the "Pzazz" at the Desert Inn for nearly two years running.....

...JOEY BISHOP always such a complete delight when he plays at the Sahara, will have beautiful ABBE LANE as his next costar when they open June 3 at the Congo Room.....

WEEKEND WANDERERS.....DEBBIE is at the Desert Inn..... DIANA is at Caesars..... DEAN is at the MGM Grand..... THE OSMONDS (all of them!!) return for their first Strip engagement in more than a year, opening May 10 at the Las Vegas Hilton..... For country fans, it's ROY CLARK at the Frontier and JOHNNY TILLOTSON at the Landmark.....

Prior to the Landmark gig, the Columbia artist hosted Cerebral Palsy Telethons in Oklahoma City; Cape Girardeau, Mo. and Fresno, raising a total of $509,000.

Also featured in the musical revue are comic Ben Sanders, banjo picker Skip De Vol and femme vocalists Watkins & Stevens.
