

CONTROL OF LEBANON

Jr., the U.S. Ambassador in Lebanon, and Robert O. Waring, the American Economic Counselor. The two diplomats and their chauffeur were shot to death while driving to a meeting with the Lebanese President-elect Elias Sarkis. "This despicable act against people working for peace can only arouse contempt and disgust," Rabin wrote.

Meanwhile, about 100 Lebanese refugees, mostly women and children, are in Israel. Some of them are staying with Maronite Christian families in Jish, the largest Maronite village in Israel. Others are receiving medical treatment in Israeli clinics and hospitals. Israeli officials are abiding by the request of the refugees that their names and pictures not be published for fear of reprisals when they return home.

RABIN PRAISES U.S., BLASTS SOVIET UNION

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Premier Yitzhak Rabin, in a detailed foreign policy review to the Knesset, praised the United States and blasted the Soviet Union.

He said the USSR has become an even greater obstacle to peace than it was in the past. Rabin praised the Ford Administration for backing Israel's refusal to attend the Geneva Conference if the Palestine Liberation Organization was present. Rabin expressed appreciation for American aid and said while there were differences between Jerusalem and Washington they would be overcome.

On specific Arab countries, Rabin said he "willingly noted" Syria's recent consent to renew the mandate of the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force on the Golan Heights with no conditions attached. But at the same time, he noted that Syria has shown no readiness to negotiate with Israel and is still demanding total Israeli withdrawal from the administered territories as a condition for talks.

The Premier said that Syria has not responded to the American-Israeli initiative and "this obstinacy is the obstacle on the road to peace." Rabin noted the quiet on the Egyptian front while acknowledging that Egypt was still taking bitter anti-Israeli positions at the United Nations and other international arenas. "Indeed, I cannot, regretfully, rule out the possibility of Egyptian recidivism which would be dangerous" to the peace process, Rabin said.

The Premier warned Jordanian King Hussein not to go too far in his "romance" with Syria or the Soviet Union. Likud leader Menachem Beigin, responding to the Premier's address, charged that the government has no workable peace plan. He said Rabin himself had admitted that the Arabs would not accept Israel's most generous offers which would have Israel retain only part of the Golan Heights and all of Jerusalem and declared it was the "height of irresponsibility" for the government to offer major withdrawals in exchange for non-belligerency.

Foreign Minister Yigal Allon said he believed the U.S. may resume its Middle East initiatives before the November Presidential elections in order to prevent Arab-Israeli friction during the campaign. Allon said the Labor Party is ready for far-reaching territorial compromises in return for a peace treaty with the Arabs.

NEW YORK -- In connection with the Summer Olympics to be held in Montreal beginning July 17, Jewish Community Centers throughout the U.S. and Canada have been urged by JWB to conduct or participate in memorial events in honor of the 11 Israeli athletes massacred in Munich, Germany, during the Olympic Games held there in 1972.

NEW YORK -- Hadassah, the largest women's volunteer organization in the country, will hold its annual National Convention in Washington, D.C. from August 15 through August 18.

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- B'nai B'rith has been urged to join the World Zionist Organization by Yosef Almogi, the WZO's chairman.
