

P.O. BOX 14096 LAS VEGAS, NEVADA 89114

Published every Priday in Las Vegas, Nevada Price per copy 15c - Per year $7 - 2 years $12

PHONE 876-1255

Jack Tell, 876-1255 ess Manager Bea Tell, 876-1255

MARK TAN, DICK McINNES, TRUDE FELDMAN, DAVID HOROWITZ, RABBI SAMUEL SILVER,
BONNIE TELL

2nd Class Postage Paid at Las Vegas, Nevada
Member of World-Union Press
Member American Jewish Press Association
Member of Worldwide News Service
Now in 12th Year of Continuous Weskiv Publication
Serving the Jewish Community of the State of Nevada

Palestinian Rights

While Palestinians were demanding their "inalienable rights" at the United Nations, a group of Palestinians and pro - Palestinian terrorists was denying the rights of air passengers to travel in safety. At the very moment that Israeli Ambassador Chaim Herzog was de-nouncing the Security Council debate of a pro-At the very moment Palestine Liberation Organization report as another example of the "miserable behavior of the United Nations under Arab instigation" Palestinian terrorists were holding 250 persons hostage in a plane at a Ugandan airport.

Herzog was referring to the Security Council debate on the recommendation of the 20-member Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People that Israel be Rights of the Palestinian People that Israel be ordered to withdraw from all occupied territory by June 1, 1977. "This was a PLO - sponsored and instigated report and discussion in which members of the Security Council participated while the PLO was engaged in its traditional hijacking of innocent passengers and civilian planes and bringing death, slaughter and destruction to fellow Arabs in Lebanon," Herzog said. said.

The United States in vetoing the recommendation in the Security Council said that not only was it one-sided but that "the political interests of the Palestinians and their role in a final Mideast settlement constitute a matter that must be negotiated between the parties before it can be defined in resolutions' of the Security Council.

This is just what the Palestinians do not want. The hijacking of the Tel Aviv - to - Paris Air France plane was another example of the willingness of the Palestinians to endanger the lives of innocent people in order to achieve their own one-sided objectives,

Behind The Scenes At The United Nations

By DAVID HOROWITZ

PLO Resolution

UNITED NATIONS (WUP) -- A draft resolution calling for the approval of a PLO - inspired document subtly aimed at Israel's destruction by stages finally came to a vote in the Security Council here last week and, as had been ex-

ITS RENEWAL TIME RIGHT NOW -I FORGOT TO SEND MY SUBSCRIPTION IN TO

LAS VEGAS ISRAELITE - P.O. BOX 14096 LAS VEGAS, NEVADA 89114

id to the welfare and growth of se to your fast growing list of sub-

STATE

YOUR RENEWAL IS APPRECIATED

HAROLD M. JACOBS (LEFT), PRESIDENT OF THE UNION OF ORTHODOX JEWISH CONGRE-GATIONS OF AMERICA, CHATTING WITH PRESIDENT GERALD R. FORD AT THE WHITE HOUSE IN A MEETING DEALING WITH RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN AMERICAN FOREIGN AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY IN THE MIDDLE EAST.

pected, the U.S. cast its veto and thus demo-lished the painstaking work of the 20 - member anti-Israel Committee which had been set up by the 'tyranny of the majority' on the day of infamy, 10 November 1975, under resolution 3376.

Israel, for obvious reasons, had boycotted the session.

None of America's allies, Britain, France, Italy and Sweden, had the courage to vote against the obscene draft. They abstained, and Japan, considered a good friend of the U.S., voted with Benin (Dahomey), China, Libya, Pakistan, Panama, Rumania, Guyana, the USSR and Tanzania, for the resolution,

Under the draft resolution, submitted to the Council by Guyana, Pakistan, Panama and Tan-zania, the Security Council would take note of the document formulated by the Committee of 20 and "affirm the inalienable rights of the Palestine people to self-determination, including the of return and the right to national independence and sovereignty in Palestine."

The PLO and the Arabs, of course, knew only too well what was meant by "sovereignty in Palestine." To them the term "Palestine" includes not only the West Bank and the Gaza but also all of Israel and not a single one of the "sovereignty in fifteen Council members could interpret it as meaning anything else.

In explaining his veto, U.S. Ambassador Albert W. Sherer, Jr., the Acting Permanent Representative in the absence of Ambassador Scranton, told the Council in no uncertain words that "the basic approach that has been followed" in pro-'strikes us as misguided...Is it realistic,' he asked, 'to assume such a problem can be resolved by committees, no matter how well-meaning? Or is it not the duty of the UN to encourage the parties to resume negotiations on the serious issues that conferent them.

on the serious issues that confront them?
"Peace," Sherer declared, "will come about through a negotiated, comprehensive settlement taking into account all the issues involved in the Arab - Israeli dispute. The framework for this settlement exists in Security Council resolutions 242 and 338."

Mr. Sherer went on to tell the Council that America's "position is also clear on the report that has occasioned our meeting. We voted that has occasioned our meeting. We voted against General Assembly resolution 3376 of November 10, 1975, which created the Committee of 20 just as we voted against resolution 3226 which it seeks to implement."

As regards the draft when he had vetoed, Sherer made it plain that in the American view it contains "two fundamental flaws. First, the text is totally devoid of balance, stressing the rights and interests of only one party to the Middle East dispute and ignoring the rights and Middle East dispute and ignoring the rights and interests of other parties. Second, the draft 'affirms the inalienable rights for the Palestinian people to self-determination, including the right to return and the right to national independence and sovereignty in Palestine.' The Middle East settlement constitutes, in my Government's view, a matter that must be negotiated between the parties before it can be defined in resolutions of this Council...."

Following this definitive and forthright state-

titutes A Majority

BY JACK TELL

(Continued from Page 1)

and razed by civil war. Thousands have been killed, many more wounded and much more rendered homeless. For this the world can thank the PLO.

U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has already thanked the PLO for allowing American citizens in Lebanon safe passage out of the war Thanks, he gave those murderers, who killed our ambassador while on a mission of mercy. Yes, that is what he did, Kissinger rendered prominence and prestige to stinking, sneaking violators of humane practice, because they "allowed" un-involved Americans to live. By the same token lawmen should send a note of appreciation to every gun - toting hoodlum for allowing his victim to live.

That is why, not only Jews, but every decent, law - abiding, honest citizen in the world should deliver allocades of gratitude to Israel for its determination and courage beyond conception in keeping alive the tenets of the Ten Command-

God bless Israel.

Abraham Goodman

By Rabbi Samuel Silver The speaker was Charles Angoff, the celebrated author whose works are wholesome and authentically Jewish.

Mr. Angoff said that we Jews have more philanthropists in our ranks than most other

He went on to say that one of the most adof philanthropists was Dr. Abraham mirable Goodman.

The setting was the City Center of Music and Drama on West 55th Street, Manhattan, and the audience had just finished oo-ing and ah-ing over a glorious exhibit depicting "Ameriing over a glorious exhibit depicting "Ameri-ca's Gift to Jewish History." The exhibit will be on view all summer long.

When Dr. Goodman got up to speak the ap-plause was long and fervent, because he is indeed a remarkable disseminator of wealth he has earned in his business.

Dr. Goodman specialized in cultural dona-His school in Ashkelon, Israel, near settlement named after the late Abba Hillel Silver, provides vocational training for young people.

Dr. Goodman was enamored of the late Shlomo Bardin, who created Brandeis Camp, one of the most effective adult education enterprises in history. Assuming the presidency of the Tarbuth (Culture) Foundation, Dr. Goodman is underwriting "Brandeis Camp East," a think tank somewhere on the Atlantic Goast. To aid him he has one of the most astute administrators in the land, Dr. Emil Lehman, for years in charge of the Herzi Institute in Manhattan, which provides audiences with the fore-most lecturers and teachers available.

The exhibit is based on the theme of Cultural Pluralism, the concept fathered by the late Dr. Horace Kallen, who says that our country is a salad of many intellectual outlooks.

One of the speakers at the gathering, which is dedicated to the Bicentennial, was Dr. Paul Padower, who admitted that our country was once a bulwark of anti-Semitism but is now once a bulwark morally cleaner.

Philanthropist Goodman is doing his share to improve the ethical tone of our nation. We are all in his debt.

ment on the part of the U.S., it becomes difficult to understand why Japan, so closely allied with Washington, voted as it did. At the least, Tolyo's Ambassador Abe could have abstained.

Yasir Arafat's spokesman, Shafig Al-Hout, concluded with this threat: "The Palestinian people will return to their lands in Palestine. The question is simply this: Will we return home in an orderly and relatively peaceful fashion or must we struggle by all means at our disposal and with the support of friendly powers at a tremendous cost of human lives in order to return?"