

ASSIMILATION, INTER-MARRIAGE, GREATEST THREAT

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- A group of scholars from Israel and abroad agreed at a Haifa University symposium that assimilation and inter-marriage pose a far greater threat to Jewish survival than another war or the worst attacks of terrorists. Prof. Joseph Nedava, of Haifa University, said if it were not for assimilation there would be 200 million Jews in the world today. Prof. Shmuel Ettinger of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem said that even in Israel, where Jewish culture is based on Hebrew and the educational system includes basic Jewish history, the influence of Western values is very much felt while Jewish content recedes.

Israeli President Ephraim Katzle said the Jewish diaspora must be encouraged to remain Jewish and Israel must cooperate in this effort. Rabbi Arthur Hertzberg, president of the American Jewish Congress, said the creation of Israel has had a positive influence on American Jewry. Dr. A. Altschuler of Hebrew University noted that intermarriage in the Soviet Union has reached 50 percent which indicates that a significant segment of the Soviet Jewish population wants to assimilate.

Prof. Shlomo Breznitz, who will become rector of Haifa University next year, said reciprocity between Israelis and diaspora Jews were limited to those Jews who immigrated to Israel while the rest are ignored. He said it was a mistake to maintain contacts only on the basis of voluntary financial assistance.

BIRKENSTOCKS. DON'T FIT LIKE SHOES. THEY DON'T FIT LIKE SANDALS. THEY FIT LIKE FOOTPRINTS.

With most sandals and shoes you need a close fit so your foot won't slip around.

But with Birkenstocks, you keep the straps loose, so you feet can move comfortably. Yet they won't slip around or fall off. The cork innersole is molded to fit your feet.

It feels like walking on a smooth beach.

If you need more convincing, ask someone who wears them. Then come see us and try on a footprint of your own.
