

ISRAEL PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA AT ALADDIN AUG. 26

Schweiker also authored the ethnic studies program to bring national attention to the contributions to America of immigrant peoples, including Jews.

In his consistent voting record for aid to Israel and in exhorting the President to maintain Israel's needs, Schweiker backed the amendment by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D., Wash.) to the Defense Procurement Act that provides unlimited loan credit until December 13, 1977, that Israel finds necessary to buy American aircraft and related equipment.

He also backed the Jackson proviso to the SALT agreement with the Soviet Union that provides for the President to seek easing by the USSR of its emigration restrictions.

This is in addition to the Jackson-Vanik legislation in the Trade Reform Bill for the same purpose.

In dealing with the Arab boycott, Schweiker has been a sponsor as well as supporter of legislation to combat Arab boycott against firms doing business with Israel and firms with Jews in their ownership or management.

Among his legislative actions was to seek the withdrawal of the United States from the International Labor Organization of the United Nations because it included the PLO in its deliberations.

Schweiker is considered one of the most liberal Republicans in the Senate. The Americans for Democratic Action gave him a score of 89 percent last year and 85 percent the year before.

The Conservative Americans for Constitutional Action, however, gave him only eight percent last year and 16 percent the year before.

Honors given to Schweiker by Jewish organizations include the Histadrut Freedom Award by the Pittsburgh National Committee for Labor Israel, the Bringer of Light Award by the Jewish National Fund and the Samuel H. Daroff Humanitarian Award by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, all presented in 1971.

ISRAEL PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

The new $10 million Aladdin Theatre for the Performing Arts in Las Vegas presents its first major cultural event when the world famous Israel Philharmonic Orchestra comes to town for one performance, August 26.

Joining the Philharmonic Orchestra for the special all - Tchaikovsky program is renowned musical conductor Zubin Mehta. Mehta was appointed Music Advisor to the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra in October, 1969, after having led the orchestra as guest conductor for seven consecutive years.

Tickets for the special one - night event went on sale this week at the Aladdin Ticket office and at Ticketron and Mutual Agencies in the Southern California area. More than 2,500 tickets were sold in the first two days, indicating more than casual interest in Las Vegas' first major cultural event in some years, despite the enormous competition from the MOR acts featured nightly in The Strip showrooms. All seats are reserved for the single performance and scaled at $10 - $15 and $20.

Included in the three - hour program will be "Symphony Number 4 in F Minor, Opus 36," "Concerto Number 1 in B flat Minor for Piano and Orchestra, Opus 23" and Festival Overture '1812', opus 49," according to Hurok Concert officials who handle the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra's National tour.

The Israel Philharmonic was created in 1936 by the late eminent violinist Bronislaw Huber-man. His idea was a musical entity in Palestine to equal the best in Europe, staffed with Jewish musicians made refugees by Nazi persecution. The result was The Palestine Orchestra, as it was called for a dozen years. The Israel Philharmonic, as it has been called since statehood in 1948, is his legacy.

ZUBIN MEHTA, CONDUCTOR

The orchestra repeatedly has been described as "Israel's most treasured cultural possession."

CONGRESS MOVE AGAINST AIRLINE HIJACK

WASH. (WNS) -- Three New York Congressmen have introduced resolutions in the House urging the United States to take the lead in stamping out international airline hijacking.

One measure proposed by Reps. Jack Kemp, a Republican, and Edward Koch, a Democrat, urged President Ford to initiate negotiations for an international treaty which would eliminate sanctuaries for terrorists and provide for enforceable sanctions for countries that give asylum to hijackers. The other resolution introduced by Rep. Benjamin Gilman (R.) calls on the President to seek formation at the United Nations of a permanent international commission which would define international terrorism and propose methods to deal with it. The resolution also asks the President to renew efforts to provide aviation sanctions against countries that "refuse to punish or extradite persons responsible for unlawful acts against civil aviation."
