

AUSCHWITZ DEATH DOCTOR RICH IN PARAGUAY

VIENNA (WNS) -- Josef Mengele, the notorious "death doctor of Auschwitz" is living the life of a wealthy man in Paraguay. Simon Wiesenthal, head of the Jewish Documentation Center here, disclosed August 17. The famed Nazi-hunter said that Mengele was granted Paraguayan citizenship by the government of Paraguay in 1959.

According to Wiesenthal, Mengele does travel abroad, owns both a Mercedes and a yacht. But Wiesenthal said there is no hope that Paraguay will agree to extradite Mengele who is responsible for the deaths of thousands of Jews.

that no rabbi would be excluded as long as he accepts the principles of the agreement reached between the parties concerned." But the leaders of Agudat Israel have already said that they would leave the government coalition if the idea was to materialize. The idea was also rejected by Agudath Israel of America. Begin has promised Likud's two religious coalition partners, Agudath Israel and the National Religious Party that the law would be amended.

However, he apparently indicated to the American Conservative and Reform rabbis that the amendment would not be introduced this year. "The real question is not who is a convert and who is a Jew, but who is the converting rabbi," Rabinowitz charged. "Even those non-Orthodox rabbis who convert according to halacha are not permitted to convert, if the amendment is passed."

The four American rabbis issued a statement saying that "The Orthodox rabbinate is not so much interested in preserving the halacha, as in preserving their control over the halacha. They have continually exploited the State as an instrument to achieve through political power what they could not achieve through education and moral suasion."
