STANDING OVATIONS NIGHTLY FOR "ICE FANTASY" AT HACIENDA

Since its opening on August 23rd, "Ice Fantasy," at the Hacienda has met with standing ovations nightly.

The choreography of Brian Foley, superb costumes of Madeline Granato and unique sets designed by David Sackeroff all serve not only to showcase outstanding skaters, but to develop a charming and amusing story line curious to ice revues -- all coming together to make "Ice Fantasy" something really special.

This extravaganza has actually surpassed the original goal of Hacienda president Paul Lowden -- who also produced the lavish spectacular -- who from the beginning said "we're going to produce the biggest and best ice show Las Vegas has ever seen."

Backed by the award winning Ron Andrews orchestra, playing the up-beat arrangements of Gregg Bosler as no other orchestra possibly could, the show's cast never misses a trick in a performance you'll want to see again and again.

VEGAS WOMAN WINS POKER AT FREMONT

The old saying "Behind every good man there is a woman" was reversed a few days ago at the downtown Fremont Hotel when Betty Hillers, a six-year resident of Las Vegas, outlasted the field to win the Argent Corporation resort's special 7-Card Stud Poker Tournament.

When the smoke cleared some five hours after the action started in the Fremont's cardroom, Mrs. Hillers gave out with a big victory smile, extremely happy about her $617 first place money and trophy but even more thrilled about winning the first poker tournament she had even entered.

Actually, her joining the tournament field came as a complete surprise.

"Betty is the cardroom tournament director of another downtown hotel and casino," said her husband, Gene. "I entered her in the Fremont event, paying the $44 buy-in fee then went home and gave her the receipt explaining that she had no choice but to give it a try."

Gene then chuckled, "The real tournament was at our home after her victory when I tried to regain my $44 buy-in money from her freshly won pot of gold."

Other top winners were Dick Turnbull, second, $316 and a trophy, and Ken Stanton, third, $315 and a trophy. Both are from Las Vegas.
