This week our hats are off to the first lady of Sisterhood of Temple Beth Sholom, Eva Harmell, who after injuring her foot severely still managed to do "her thing" in ably assisting the Temple and various organizations of which she is so heavily involved.

My loving thanks to my beautiful grandmother, Eva Seitz Eisler, for giving me a lifetime membership with one of our most prestigious organizations, Hadassah. How very proud I am of my grandmother and the charitable life she has led.

Congratulations to Dr. Sam Ellis on the opening of his new chiropractic offices on West Charleston.

Jews have contributed so much to modern medicine that it has been said that you can go through life without the Jews... but not well.

The Las Vegas "Improvisation" official grand opening has been pushed back from 9/1 to 9/8. The "Improv," announced Neil Phillips, will be open to the public on a casual and informal basis starting 9/1 without firm dining or showroom schedules. This exciting "Stars of Tomorrow" cabaret/restaurant is located in the Commercial Center on Sahara.
