

OF THE STARS

MAC DAVIS, JOAN RIVERS AT MGM GRAND

Mac Davis, one of the most popular stars in Las Vegas, returns to the plush, 1,200-seat Celebrity Showroom at the MGM Grand on September 28, when he opens another exciting three-week engagement with the zany Joan Rivers.

Mac's musical show, featuring the dynamic dance group "Strutt" and musical director Velton Ray Bunch, includes the best from the Davis book of golden goodies as well as a bevy of today's newest and most popular tunes.

The musical magic highlights hits that he has written for himself and other singing stars: songs like "Memories," "Baby, Don't Get Hooked

JOAN

On Me," "In the Ghetto," and "I Believe in Music," as well as new hits, "Gimme Some Lovin'," "I Wish," "In The Eyes Of My People" and a special "Rock and Roll" medley.

Joan Rivers, a successful writer, movie producer and director, as well as comedienne, is 1977's Top Female Comedy Performer as named by the Academy of Variety and Cabaret Artists at the seventh annual Las Vegas Entertainment Awards ceremony.

Joan's comedy forte is plain old "honesty" as she amusingly draws on the humor of personal anecdotes, true stories that her audiences can easily relate to.

Mac Davis and Joan Rivers will share the stage in the Celebrity Room through October 18, to be followed by Rich Little and Sandy Duncan.
