His Brother's Keeper

President Carter, since assuming office, has taken the commendable attitude that he will not censure statements by members of his family. Nor has he been willing to comment even when actions or remarks, especially by his irresponsible brother, Billy, have proved to be embarrassing to him and his Administration. We can sympathize with the President. Many of us have relatives for whose statements we would not like to be held accountable.

But now Billy Carter has gone too far and the President must intervene unless he wants to see not only his Administration damaged but have his own reputation hurt. Billy Carter's antics are no longer amusing, if they ever were.

It could be argued that as a private citizen Billy Carter has the right to go to Libya and to host a group of Libyan government officials who come to Georgia seeking investments. But does even Billy Carter believe the Libyans are so anxious for his help just because he is a Georgian businessman? It is hard to believe that he does not realize that they want him because he is the President's brother. And as the President's brother he should know that when he promotes a country that is denounced by the United States for its support of terrorism he is making his own brother's policies appear to be a sham.

But Billy has gone even further. When the Anti - Defamation League of B'nai B'rith protested, Billy Carter first charged that Libya had a bad image in the U.S. because of Jewish control of the media and then claimed that Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson refused to meet with the Libyan delegation because of "Jewish pressure." When Billy Carter called a leading sports figure of Polish descent a "bastardized Jew" it may have just been a case of bad taste, something which Billy seems to be saturated with. But his later charges are coming close to anti - Semitism.

The White House denial that the President shared any of Billy Carter's views does not suffice. President Carter must repudiate his brother directly and unequivocally. He no longer can remain silent. The time has also come for him to try to give brother Billy a good talking to. It is time for the President to become his brother's keeper.

Cambodia Crisis

UNITED NATIONS (WUP) -- It's a rare thing here at the UN to see opponents of Israel fighting a fierce battle over an issue not affecting Israel in any way.

This is precisely what happened here last week when the Security Council, somewhat confused and bewildered, began to debate the escalating crisis in Cambodia. As everyone expected, the leading antagonists in the 'show' were the Soviets and the Chinese -- the former supporting the invading Vietnamese, the latter the seemingly 'resurrected' Cambodian Prince Norodom

ISRAELI MEDICAL PIONEERS HONORED

JERUSALEM -- DR. KALMAN J. MANN, DIRECTOR - GENERAL OF THE HADASSAH MEDICAL ORGANIZATION SINCE 1951, AND SYLVIA MANN, LEFT, WHO IS A FOUNDER OF YA'AL THE ISRAEL HOSPITAL VOLUNTEERS AUXILIARY, HAVE BEEN HONORED AT A SERIES OF EVENTS. HE RECEIVED HADASSAH'S HIGHEST HONOR, THE HENRIETTA SZOLD AWARD IN SEPT. NOW, YA'AL HAS NAMED NURSING SCHOOL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR THEM, AND PLANTED A 100-TREE GROVE IN THEIR HONOR IN HADASSAH FOREST. AT LEFT, MARY VOSEN, YA'AL CHAIRMAN, HADASSAH COUNCIL IN ISRAEL, AND RIGHT, YVONNE SETTON, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, YA'AL.

Sihanouk.

"For once Israel was not the center of controversy in a vital UN debate," a half-smiling Russian correspondent remarked in accosting this writer in the corridor. He was referring not only to Cambodia but also to the sticky issue of Namibia currently being explored for adjudication by the world organization.

Indeed, for the time being, at least, the Far East crisis is overshadowing the Middle East question and delegations have a greater worry on their minds.

It's quite a different story with the Arabs and the PLO people here. This new development has stunned them. They are worried. They fear this latest conflict may divide them even further than the Camp David agreements had split their ranks. For now they are witnessing their two super - power champions engaged in a life - and - death struggle and they see it as intruding upon the case they have made against the Jewish State.

Having managed by their sinister maneuverings to inject an anti - Israeli stance into practically every UN agenda item and even into some of the main Specialized Agencies such as UNESCO, ILO, etc. -- as reflected in so many one - sided resolutions -- they now sense a lack of something. They have become so obsessed with Israel that they cannot imagine any debate minus an attack on the Jewish State. It appears they cannot 'exist' without Israel. There's no Israel in Cambodia; no Jerusalem in Namibia. (Of course, they still have Iran to play with, but even here the outcome remains uncertain).

All this poses a real crisis for the Arabs as it does for most of their Third World supporters. The Moscow - Peking confrontation over Cambodia constitutes a serious challenge to them. They'll have to choose sides or lose the support of one or the other. No doubt the radical Arabs will stand with Moscow, not Peking which appears now to support Camp David and which has shown a new posture since its establishment of full diplomatic relations with Washington.

Thus, the events in Cambodia may prove to be a blessing in disguise for Israel. They bear watching.

Significantly, the Soviet Union suffered a devastating defeat at the opening meeting of the Council. By a vote of 13 against 2 (USSR and Czechoslovakia), the Council decided to recognize Prince Sihanouk and allow him to state his case. (The only Arab member of the Security Council, Kuwait, voted with the majority.)

While the Security Council was debating the Cambodian crisis one single document appeared here that related to the Middle East -- the republication of a communication from Ambassador Yehuda Z. Blum as addressed to the Secretary - General. It dealt in the main with the feverish attempts by the Arabs during the higher.

Do you realize what all this would have meant to the progress of Las Vegas now and in years to come. The Clark County Commission turned down the proposal. Don't ask us why? It was perhaps petty party politics or stupidity or nearsightedness. In any case it was the mistake of the century.

From time to time we will bring you other examples of Hughes' farsightedness and the great intentions he had planned for Las Vegas.

recent session to resurrect the outmoded Assembly resolution 181 of 29 November 1947. Their aim, of course, was "to try to justify their present - day positions and also to make a belated claim to the legal benefits deriving from it."

In his letter -- which precedes seven pages of documentation pointing to total Arab rejection of the 1947 resolution -- the Israeli Ambassador charges that the Arabs and their many friends had resurrected the all - but - dead resolution "on the assumption that after 31 years memories have dimmed, both as regards the historical circumstances of the resolution and the reactions of the Arabs to the resolution after its adoption. They wilfully ignore the fact," Blum declared, "that as a result of those reactions that resolution was overtaken by the events of 1947 - 1948 and effectively frustrated by the Arabs at that time.

"The fact is that all the States members of the Arab League in 1947 categorically rejected Assembly resolution 181," Blum further reminded the Secretary - General. "Those States formally reserved their complete freedom of action and then set out to destroy that resolution by the illegal use of force from the moment of its adoption. On 5 March 1948, on 1 April 1948 and again on 17 April 1948, the Security Council appealed for an end to the acts of violence in Palestine. The Arabs, within and without Palestine, openly defied those resolutions. With the termination of the British Mandate on May 14, 1948, the armies of seven Arab States illegally crossed the international boundaries in clear violation of the UN Charter and in breach of international law..."

It was in wisdom on the part of the Israeli delegation to have this document, citing facts and figures recounting Arab duplicity and deceit, circulated as an official General Assembly and Security Council document during this period in which the attention of the world is directed away from the Mideast to the Far East.

Dr. Lawrence Golding conducts a unique phys. Ed. class at UNLV. Spectators smile as they watch the twisting, panting and moaning bodies before them. "Exercise for Men" & "Exercise for Women" require pre-entrance medical exams and are designed to promote greater and continued health through rigorous exercise. If you are serious and conscientious enough to try, here's a real opportunity to improve your physical being.
