

DISSIDENTS

co - author of the amendment, told a Soviet Jewry Rally in New York April 29 that was attended by Dymshits and Kuznetsov, that the amendment must stay in effect until all who wish to leave the Soviet Union are allowed to do so. "I want you to know that many of those who are now urging repeal because the numbers (of emigrants) have been going up, were urging repeal last year because they said the numbers were going down," he said. However, Rep. Al Ullman (D. Ore.), chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, predicted that President Carter would find a way of giving the Soviets most - favored - nation treatment. Meanwhile, Israeli Premier Menachem Begin has praised President Carter for helping secure the release of Dymshits and Kuznetsov, as well as five other persons jailed in the Leningrad hijacking.

NEW YORK (WNS) -- The Columbia University School of Journalism revealed May 1 that it invited Jacobo Timerman, the former editor and publisher of La Opinion to come to the school as a guest lecturer and has urged the Argentine government to release him from house arrest so that he can do so.

ISRAEL CELEBRATES 31ST

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Family gatherings, picnics and crowded beaches rather than rallies and parades marked Israel's 31st Independence Day May 2, the first at peace with its most powerful neighbor, Egypt.

Premier Menachem Begin, in a radio address, said that the treaty was achieved after the "very difficult" events of the past few months when "doubts were cast on our dedication to peace. Baseless charges were laid. We had to hear a condemnation not only from foreigners but also, and even more painful, from some of our people. But truth will always prevail."

However, Begin stressed that Israel's withdrawal from the Sinai was not a precedent and there would be no further withdrawal from occupied territory in exchange for an overa

Middle East peace. He said Israel will not leave the Golan Heights and it will maintain its settlements on the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

Gush Emunim and its supporters held an 11 - kilometer march on the West Bank in which, Gush said, some 60,000 people participated.
