

JEWISH NEWS BRIEFS

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Likud rebel Geula Cohen and Moshe Shamir have formed a new Knesset faction, Banai which stands for Brit Neemanei Eretz Israel (Covenant of the Faithful of Eretz Israel). They said they would be "the only real opposition" in the Knesset, attacking what they regard as the "disastrous policies" of the Begin government. They said they would work to retain all parts of Eretz Israel.

DETROIT (WNS) -- The trial of Rumanian Orthodox Archbishop Valerian Trifa, accused of hiding his membership in the fascist Rumanian Iron Guard when he entered the United States after World War II and when he applied for U. S. citizenship, has been postponed from its scheduled July 30 date. The Justice Department has asked for more time in order to translate and review new evidence from the government of Rumania.

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Defense Minister Ezer Weizman has told West Bank Mayors he would not object to them receiving funds from Arab states. But the funds must be for "positive" municipal purposes and approved each time by the Military Government, Weizman stressed.

AMSTERDAM (WNS) -- Hans Knoop, a 35-year-old Dutch journalist whose articles in 1976 led to the arrest of Nazi war criminal Pieter Menten, has announced he is the organizer of a Jewish Defense League in Holland to react physically to any signs of anti-Semitism. His group said it was the one which stoned the editorial offices of the daily Haagse Post after the newspaper published interviews with several Dutch soldiers in the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL) who made anti-Semitic remarks.

for information leading to the safe return of Cary Sayegh kidnaped October 25, 1978, from the Albert Einstein School, 17th and Dakey, Las Vegas, Nevada. Please give information to FBI, telephone number 385-1281, or Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, telephone number 386-3111.

VIENNA (WNS) -- A 300-year-old synagogue in the former ghetto of Eisenstadt, closed by the Nazis in 1938, had been rededicated after the completion of intensive restoration work by the federal and provincial government. The synagogue in Eisenstadt, a town southeast of Vienna near the Hungarian border, will be part of a larger complex planned to include a Jewish museum and a Judaism research institute. Only one worshipper, a Holocaust survivor, still lives in the town.

WOODBORNE, N.Y. (WNS) -- An Israel aliya center has been opened in a storefront on Main Street in this Catskill Mountains community to reach Jewish vacationers during the summer. The center is operated by Shifra Hoffman, executive director of Shuba, and Jay Shapiro, an emissary from Israel, in conjunction with the Israel Aliya Department, the Jewish Agency and the North American Aliya Movement.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Haifa is sprucing up for Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's arrival by yacht in August. The visit has brought to life a project begun 25 years ago, the construction of a modern passenger terminal, which observers say would have taken another 25 years if it were not for the impending arrival of Sadat. Workers are now trying to get it built in time.

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- Some American businessmen have complained to the Carter Administration that they are losing a competitive edge in the Middle East because of the U.S. anti-Arab boycott laws and other legislation. But the State Department said the complaints are not of sufficient importance for it to consider recommending changes in the law.
