WHAT SHE'S MADE OF

LOS ANGELES (WNS) -- Vanessa Redgrave, who will portray an Auschwitz survivor in a forthcoming CBS-TV production of "Playing for Time," has provoked a new anger in the Jewish community by proposing a business boycott of Israel and calling Israel "a racist state."

The British actress espouses the view of the Palestine Liberation Organization. Rabbi Marvin Hier, dean of the Simon Wiesenthal Center for Holocaust Studies and Yeshiva University of Los Angeles, and a member of the advisory committee to the President's Commission on the Holocaust, sent a telegram to Gene Janowski, president of the CBS Broadcast Group, stating that Redgrave's latest statement exposes her as "an anti-Semite."

Hier said "The only response is for you to permanently shelve 'Playing for Time'; failure to do so would be a further slap in the face of the Jewish people and add salt to the wounds of those who survived the Holocaust."

ISRAELI ARMY MAY RAISE AGE

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- A breakthrough in the autonomy talks on some of the substantive issues by the May 26 target date was predicted by Interior Minister Yosef Burg, head of the Israeli negotiating team. Appearing on Israel Radio's Arab Hour program, Burg said the four separate working groups will try to find a common ground on such issues as election procedures and the structure of the self-governing administrative council for the West Bank and Gaza Strip. However, he saw no possibility of progress on the major issues.
