

GEORGIA MAN HITS SAME SLOT TWICE

One lucky visitor to the MGM Grand Hotel believes patience is a virtue and now has an additional $69,212.00 in his bank account and a world's record quarter slot machine payoff as a hedge against inflation.

Robert Peters of Keysville, Georgia waited four hours to play the resort's famous Bicentennial Jackpot slot, a four-reel progressive quarter slot machine. When he finally got his chance to wrestle the one-armed bandit, Thursday, it took only 10 minutes to line up the four numerals 1 - 7 - 7 - 6 and collect the world's largest quarter standard slot payoff.

Peters had played the same machine back in April at the Grand and won $1,776.00. He had a feeling that it might pay off again, which is why he was willing to wait so long for two ladies to vacate it. Patience paid off.
