

Rosh Hashana Message

BY SIDNEY E. LEIWANT, PRESIDENT
AMERICAN ORT FEDERATION

Rosh Hashana is a time to recall the whole span of the Jewish experiences and to do so with an eye toward the future. For the men and women of ORT and for its 100,000 students this High Holiday season has the particular historic significance that it meshes with our Centennial Year in Israel and throughout the Jewish world.

It is an occasion to remember that ORT brought to communal consciousness a concern for vocational and technical education - first for Jews in need of a livelihood; later as part of community responsibility to its youth; and for the last 31 years as the seedbed for developing a trained technical work force for Israel.

SAHARA HOSTS HELEN AND FREDDY

HELEN

FREDDY

Only on the marquee beneath the towering Sahara Hotel sign do Las Vegas showgoers find the names of top superstars in singing, comedy and impersonations simultaneously lighting up the Las Vegas Strip.

And those stars shine as brightly on the Sahara's Congo

Showroom stage as Helen Reddy and Fred Travalena appear at 8 p.m. dinner shows and the inimitable Buddy Hackett and James Darren appear for 12 midnight cocktail shows through September 24.

Whether it's "Angie Baby," "Delta Dawn," "I Am Woman" or one of her latest hits, internationally-acclaimed singing star Helen Reddy has a song for every mood. Her sharp, clear, distinctive voice combined with her uniquely identifiable hit songs create an atmosphere of total entertainment for excited showgoers.

Fred Travalena brings to the Congo

Showroom stage not one but a whole host of famous personalities as he continues his climb toward becoming America's number-one impressionist. This youthful and handsome entertainer is constantly expanding his repertoire of famous show business personalities, political figures, and yes, even a few oddball impressions like the "Parkay Margarine" voice or the sounds of some Star Wars robot.

Four outstanding stars: Helen Reddy, Fred Travalena, Buddy Hackett, and James Darren -- they're why the Sahara's the place to be for the best in entertainment!
