

THOUSANDS MARCH

ing three persons and injuring 33. It was the worst anti-Semitic attack since the end of the war and the first to have caused fatalities. The bombing capped a series of anti - Semitic attacks against Jewish institutions for which a neo - Nazi group, the European National Fascists, claimed responsibility.

Immediately after the fatal bombing three days of demonstrations of Jews and non - Jews took place to protest the wave of anti-Semitic incidents and to demand action. Tens of thousands of non-Jews, trade unionists, students and politicians representing the entire spectrum of France's political and social life, joined Jewish demonstrators through the streets of Paris. President Valery Giscard d'Estaing has personally taken over the investigation and Prime Minister Raymond Barre and Interior Minister Christian Bonnet have ordered special units of France's riot police to guard all Jewish schools, synagogues and institutions. Police guards armed with machineguns are conducting an around-the - clock patrol near Jewish business areas with large Jewish concentrations.

Jewish defense groups, some belonging to the Jewish Defense Organization and some newly - improvised, are also standing guard over Jewish schools, synagogues and other institutions throughout the country. Young Jews, carrying walkie-talkies and steel bars, have been stopping suspicious - looking cars and frisking passersby and motorists. Some young Jews say they plan to "seek revenge" for the synagogue bombing.

Jewish anger is so intense that Jewish demonstrators tried to storm the Presidential residence, the Elysee Palace, and the Ministry of Interior, and came close to clashing with French riot police. Tourists or passersby who seemed to conform to the image of neo-Nazis -- those with short - cropped hair and wearing conservative dark suits -- were harassed or beaten up. Some were seen fleeing, with blood over their faces.

All along the Champs Elysees, in the Place d'Opera and in the vicinity of the Presidential Palace, hundreds of demonstrators waved Israeli flags throughout the day and late into the night, with people shouting "Israel shall live," and "Death to the Nazis." The demonstrators and almost the entire French Jewish leadership blamed the government, Giscard d'Estaing, Barre and Bonnet for the tragedy.

The country seems to be in a state of shock and there is a nationwide demand for speedy and energetic action. The feeling of solidarity with the Jewish community is such that France's two major trade unions, the CGT and CFDT, called for a nationwide strike Oct. 7 as a gesture of solidarity with France's Jews. Work in factories, offices and public transportation came to a standstill for two hours. Representatives of all social classes and political parties voiced support of former Premier Michel Debre's statement: "No one can or will forget what took place in Paris Friday night."

Rue Copernic, where the Reform Rue Copernic Temple is located, looked as if it had been the target of an air raid attack. Burned out cars littered the streets; buildings in a 100 - meter area were wrecked, their windows shattered and their walls blackened by smoke. Local residents say that a day after the bombing they could still smell the stench of smoke and burned bodies.

The Reform synagogue, located in one of Paris' most fashionable residential areas, was filled with worshippers who came to attend both the Sabbath services and Simhat Torah services. At 6:20 P.M. the worshippers suddenly heard a blast. The synagogue's front gate was blown off, the ceilings caved in and the windows were shattered. Only a handful of people inside were injured. Most suffered slight wounds from glass shards and wood splinters.

ISRAEL TAKES GRAVE VIEW OF SOVIET-SYRIAN PACT

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Israel has warned that it is taking a "grave" view of the Soviet - Syrian friendship and military cooperation pact signed in Moscow Oct 8. Speaking to reporters at the Defense Ministry, Begin also said Israel was closely watching "the growing Jordanian involvement in the Iraqi war effort" against Iran. Begin said that the Soviet - Syrian pact affected the entire free world and he would discuss it with President Carter when they meet in Washington in November.

Israeli analysts said that President Hafez Assad of Syria apparently decided that he had to enter a formal pact with the Soviets, something he hesitated to do before, because the Iraqi - Iranian war left Syria isolated among the Arab States, all of which except Libya, are supporting Iraq. Because of Syria's long - standing rivalry with Iraq, Assad also may have felt he could not allow Iraq to draw closer to Moscow as a result of the war.

But the Israelis believe it is altogether unlikely that Syria would join the war by taking military action against Iraq.

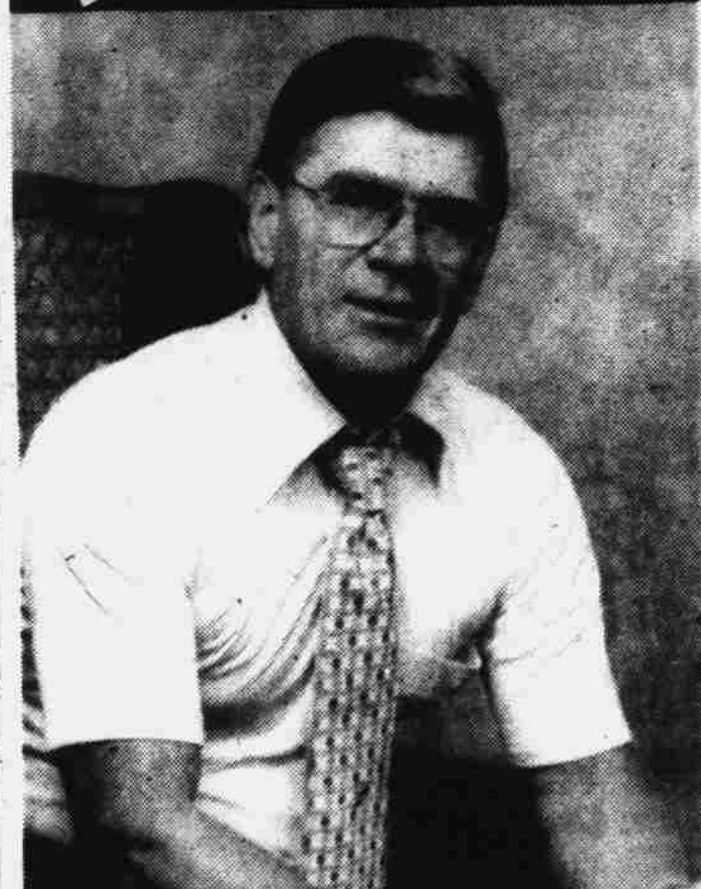

View Memorial Park, 7600 S. Eastern Avenue. Assisting the Rabbi in the dedication ceremony was Leo A. Wilner, Executive Director of the Temple.

Participants also included H. E. Burton, President of Palm Memorial Estate Plans, Inc., and Allen Brewster, District Manager of Palm Memorial Estate Plans, Inc., and the liaison person between the Temple and Palm Mortuaries and Memorial Parks.

Soon to be erected within this garden will be a ten - ton multi-colored granite and marble monument feature with surrounding walkways.

Judge Goldman For Justice

NEVADA SUPREME COURT SEAT E

Since Governor Mike O'Callaghan appointed him District Court Judge for Department No. 10, Judge Paul Goldman has earned growing respect as one of the most energetic and clear-thinking men to sit on the bench in the State of Nevada.

For more than six years, Judge Goldman has served as a Judge in Nevada's Eighth Judicial District where he and his fellow jurists carry one of the heaviest case loads of any court system in the nation.

Despite this, the time between arrest and sentencing of criminals has been cut in half. Much of the credit for speedier justice goes to Judge Goldman; who served two terms as Chief Judge and one term as Chief Criminal Judge.

Judge Goldman received his Juris Doctor Degree from the University of Denver College of Law. He has practiced both civil and criminal law as a private attorney. He left a private practice in Denver to move to Nevada and become legal counsel for Reynolds Electrical & Engineering Co., Inc. He served as a Deputy District Attorney for Clark County and later became Chief Assistant United States Attorney. He is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, the Ninth and Tenth Circuit Courts of Appeal and all Colorado and Nevada Courts.

As a veteran officer of the United States Navy, Judge Goldman flew with various squadrons aboard aircraft carriers. The Judge resides in Clark County with his wife, Charlene and their three daughters.

Judge Goldman is an active member in numerous judicial and civic organizations, including:

- Nevada State Bar
- Clark County Bar Association
- Washoe County Bar Association
- Nevada District Judges Association
- American Judicature Society
- Executive Board Member, City of Hope
- News Reporting and Fair Trial Committee, National Conference of State Trial Judges of the American Bar Association
