"SAME TIME NEXT YEAR" AT MEADOWS

Joan Snyder and Lon Huber "carry on" in "Same Time Next Year" by Bernard Slade at The Meadow Slade at the Meadows Playhouse, through November.

The slyly sentimental comedy depicting the morals of the late twentieth century carries the couple, who are married but not to each other, through the years of their extra-marital involvement. We, the audience, peep through the windows right through their twenty-fifth anniversary.

Performances are at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday with a 2:30 p.m. Saturday matinee. Season subscriptions are still available for the remaining seven plays of the 1980-81 season. In addition to the savings over the single admission price, subscribers are assured of a seat for every performance.

Many theatregoers have been unable to see productions at The Playhouse since the house is often sold out. For information on season subscriptions and tickets for the current production, call the box office 739-7525.
