

POPE PRAISES GERMAN JEWS

BONN (WNS) -- Pope John Paul II praised the contributions of German Jews to German culture. In a meeting with representatives of the Central Organization of German Jews in Mainz, he also spoke of the efforts by Catholic bodies in recent years to have a greater understanding of the Jewish community. Much of the Pope's dialogue with 30 prominent West German Jews, representing a total population of 40,000 Jews, was centered on the Nazi persecution of Jews. The Pontiff criticized, by implication, the dormant role of the Church during the Nazi period. The Pope restrained from mentioning Israel and did not refer to the Arab-Israeli conflict. All of his references were to the "Holy Land" and he expressed the hope that Jerusalem will enjoy peace and prosperity and that all parties involved would cooperate toward those goals. But Werner Naemann, chairman of the Central Council of Jews in Germany, told the Pope that "the land of Israel has become a symbol of our survival after the Holocaust." He departed from his prepared text to urge the Vatican to support the Middle East peace process based on the Camp David accords. Nachmann said that never in Jerusalem's history was access to the holy places by people of all faiths more free than it is now.
