

LAW OF RETRIBUTION

Allah's will and return the Embassy to Israel and rectify the damages he has brought upon the Jewish people in his land. There is no other way he can save historic Iran from the ravages of war and self-destruction. It is also Allah's will that he grant full autonomy to the valiant Kurds in his midst.

Should he and his Islamic leaders fail to pray for forgiveness and repent, then they'll have to face the consequences of the seeds of discord they have sown and Iran will suffer the fate that befell Israel's ancient and modern enemies.

As a devout Moslem, Khomeini must know that the Qoran speaks reverently about the People of the Book, the children of Israel, about Nebi Musa (Moses) and Dahood (David). He must also be familiar with the prophecies of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel and the other Prophets who, in the name of Allah, predicted the return of the Jewish people to their ancient homeland, and that this prediction has come true in our days. No power on earth can reverse it.

As regards the Palestinians, surely there is a destiny for them and in time they will fit into a future Middle Eastern pattern as cousins of the children of Israel. The Crescent is vast and there is ample room for all to live together in peace. The tiny slice of 'Palestine' is decreed for Israel.

The Rev. Donald S. Harrington of the Community Church of New York, following a visit to Israel, put it in these words: "I sometimes wonder by what right we expect so much better behavior from the Israelis than we do from anyone else. How have the Arabs treated their minorities? More than a million Jews have been forced since 1948 to flee from their Arab homelands, leaving all their possessions, the wealth of generations of hard work behind them. Israel took them in, and helped them start over. But are any of those so concerned for the Palestinian refugees doing anything to restore to these million Jewish refugees from Arab countries their confiscated land and wealth...?"

"Which countries, having seized foreign and disputed territory in resisting aggression in or since World War II," Harrington asks, "have given any of that territory back voluntarily? Has the Soviet Union returned sovereignty to Latvia, Lithuania or Estonia, Ruthenia, Bessarabia or the northern Japanese islands? Do those who moralize on Israeli occupation of the West Bank ever urge Russia to restore their national rights to the Baltic States...? What kind of double standard is this that we expect so much more of little, threatened, besieged Israel than of the mighty Soviet Union, armed to the teeth...?"

The above will be brought to the attention of Ambassador Shemirani.

AWACS SALE FACES DELAY

WASH. (WNS) -- Following a letter to President Reagan from 54 Senators and a resolution of disapproval in the House co-signed by 224 Representatives calling for the Administration to withdraw the proposed arms package sale to Saudi Arabia, Secretary of State Alexander Haig said that the Reagan Administration would "delay" submission of the proposal to Congress.

Appearing on the CBS-TV "Face the Nation" program, Haig said the Administration is still in the process of developing arrangements for the arms package and that it is "very important that the arrangements be known and understood by those who have reservations as to the sale." The package, to include AWACS radar air craft, was expected to be submitted to Congress for approval sometime in early July.

But Haig said the submission to Congress will also depend on timing as recommended by the Senate leadership. Sen. Charles Percy (R. Ill.) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Sen. Paul Laxalt (R. Nev.) have urged the President to withhold submission in wake of the letter from the 54 Senators.

Haig rejected claims that Saudi oil was involved in any way in the AWACS sale. He said what the U.S. was "concerned about" in the sale was the security of oil in Saudi Arabia and "overall regional security." Haig also said he could make "no predictions" as to whether or when the Administration will make judgement that Israel did or did not violate the arms agreement with the U.S. by using American planes to destroy Iraq's nuclear reactor June 7, or whether or when the U.S. will decide to lift the suspension on delivery of four

F-16 fighter planes for Israel.

Haig said any judgement on Israel will be made by the Administration in cooperation with Congress but he didn't know if they would ever reach a "juridical" decision.

Meanwhile, Special U.S. envoy to the Middle East Philip Habib returned to Washington from the Mideast. He met with Haig and is scheduled to meet with President Reagan the week of June 29. Sources here have indicated that Habib was called back home for consultations partly out of a desire of the State Department that he should not be in the region during Israel's election campaign.
