

REAGAN PLEDGES AID TO SOVIET JEWS

NEW YORK (WNS) -- President Reagan made a personal call to Theodore Mann, chairman of the National Conference on Soviet Jewry (NCSJ) and extended his assurances that the fate of Soviet Jews will continue to be on the United States agenda in any negotiations with the Soviet Union. The President told Mann that he has already communicated this fact to Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev in a personal note. The President's call was in response to a letter from Mann, which conveyed thanks from 15 Jewish emigration activists in the Soviet Union for his meeting with Avital Shcharansky, wife of Prisoner of Conscience Anatoly Shcharansky and a recently released former prisoner Josif Mendelevich. Meanwhile, twenty Nobel laureates cabled Soviet Authorities to protest the "sentencing of an innocent man," computer scientist Viktor Frailovsky, to five years of internal exile. They deplored this "miscarriage of justice" and urged Soviet President Brezhnev and the president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, A. P. Aleksandrov, to "secure his release and permit his emigration." In a related item, the mother of Anatoly Shcharansky, Ida Milgrom reported to the NCSJ that Shcharansky has met with Vyacheslav Romanov, deputy head of medical services of the Ministry of Internal Affairs. Romanov reportedly told Ms. Milgrom that her son left the camp hospital on June 3 after undergoing a series of examinations. He said that Shcharansky suffers from weakness of the eye muscle and that his weight stands at 119 pounds. This indicates a severe weight loss since his incarceration in March 1977.

UJA WALK-A-THON RAISES $1.3 MILLION

NEW YORK -- United Jewish Appeal's Fifth Annual Walk-A-Thon, held in 40 communities in the United States and Canada during the month of May, raised a total of $1,323,880, according to the latest figures compared at Walk-A-Thon headquarters here. More than 64,000 participants walked, jogged, biked and skated under the national theme, "We're On Our Way -- Walking As One." Judy Slater of Boston, Mass., National UJA Walk-A-Thon Chairman and Chairman of UJA's Northeast Region Women's Division, said "Chicago, where 5,800 people raised $250,000, was the top fundraiser."
