

ISRAEL WILL CONTINUE FLIGHTS

cause today we shot down a MIG-25.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Dean Fischer said that the U.S. found the dog-fight between Israeli and Syrian jets "disturbing and we hope there will be no repetitions. We continue to urge all involved to exercise maximum restraint." Fischer refused to say whether the U. S. considered Israel's reconnaissance flights over Lebanon a violation of the cease-fire. He referred to an earlier statement that the flights were not armed actions.

The cease - fire was violated several times but Begin said he hoped it would last several weeks or even several months. Several Katyusha rockets were fired into the Christian enclave in south Lebanon. There was no response from the forces headed by Maj. Saad Haddad although some of his officers were reportedly demanding permission to return the fire. Israel has guaranteed that Haddad, whom it supports, would observe the cease - fire as long as the Palestinians did. The rockets were aimed at Kibbutz Misgav Am but fell short. The violation in the cease - fire is believed to be by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine - General Command. Its leader Ahmed Jibril has denounced the cease - fire.

Timor Goskell, a spokesman for the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL) said that the cease - fire signed by PLO leader Yasir Arafat was binding on all Palestinian groups including Jibril's Libyan - backed terrorists. Goskel noted that Arafat signed the agreement as "chief of all the joint forces under the umbrella and the non - PLO umbrella which is the rejectionist front and the Lebanese nationalist faction." Goskell added, "so he (Arafat) has committed himself on behalf of all these."

The army released the score sheet for the attack on Beirut terrorist headquarters. It claimed the destruction of a terrorist ammunition dump at El - Fakhani; Palestinian bases recently set up in the E-Jenah area in Beirut six 130 mm. and 155 mm. field artillery batteries; eight mobile Katyusha rocket launchers used by El Fatah; and anti - aircraft missile battery near the Shtila and Sabra camps; 80 military vehicles on the outskirts of the Sabra camp; an Arab Liberation Front position; and a Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine position.

Listed as damaged were El Fatah command headquarters; two houses belonging to "Abu Jihad," the senior El Fatah commander; building in El Fakhani housing the Democratic Front and Arab Liberation Front headquarters; and El Fatah's main operational room. The army said PLO men killed included Abu El-Kefah, the El Fatah officer in charge of weapons and ammunition and about 20 officers and men of the Democratic Front.

OPPOSITION DECLINES TO WEAPON SALE

BONN (WNS) -- Due to what some observers see here as a result of Premier Menachem Begin's personal attacks on Chancellor Helmut Schmidt during the month of June, efforts to block the sale by West Germany of tanks and other modern equipment to Saudi Arabia will be more of a problem than two months ago before the bitter personal attacks, it was reported here.

Israeli diplomats here concede that it will be much easier now for the government to overcome opposition to the proposed sale to the Saudis.

Strong opposition had developed in the Bundestag by pro-Israeli members and particularly among members of the Free Democratic Party, Schmidt's coalition partners and the opposition Christian Democrats. Although the Chancellor personally supported the weapons sale, he was unable to make a commitment when he visited Saudi Arabia in May. West German sources say the matter is under review and no decision can be expected in the near future.
