CASTAWAYS SETS PRO FOOTBALL HANDICAP

A prestigious field of entrants make up the Castaways Pro-Football Handicap "CHALLENGE" and "ULTIMATE CHALLENGE" each year. Well-know professionals such as Gary "Edge" Austin, Grr Marku, Doyle Brunson, Tony Salinas, Joe "Rags" Ragusa, as well as a large number of sports services, have all put their reputation on the line against the Castaways Sports Book.

The contestants display board at the Castaways is a hub of activity during the football season. Sonny Reizner, Sports Book Director, lists all the selections in the "CHALLENGE" and "ULTIMATE CHALLENGE," and many people come to Las Vegas just to see the selection on the board and the most selected wins.

Each week an entrant in the "CHALLENGE" must make 14 picks against the point spread. The Vegas Line. In the "ULTIMATE CHALLENGE," the player picks only seven games out of 14 and two "best bets" (two best from his seven.) All picks in both challenges are then posted for public view.

Entry fees for the "CHALLENGE" is

JERRY READY TO WORK FOR HIS KIDS

Jerry Lewis is back at the Sahara Hotel for the biggest event of his year and the biggest entertainment event in Las Vegas every year. In addition to his two big shows nightly in the Congo Showroom -- 8 p.m. dinner shows and 12 midnight cocktail shows -- Jerry is getting ready for his "kids" and the giant 1981 Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to benefit the national Muscular Dystrophy Association and battle against muscular dystrophy.

This year's Telethon will be televised nationwide September 6 and 7 from the Sahara's mammoth Space Center convention complex. But Jerry Lewis thrives on work. Fresh from the success of his motion picture, "Hardly Working," this special Congo

Showroom engagement and preparation for the 1981 Telethon required Jerry to break his busy schedule in New York filming his next big movie, "King of Comedy," to return to Las Vegas. And Jerry works hardest on the Congo stage. The non-stop laughter from his audiences proves that Joining Lewis at the Sahara is the singer described by his show business peers as the "best male vocalist in the world today." That's quite a compliment but when Damone sings it becomes almost an understatement. Vic has a special way with a song that tops all others.
