"Geula Cohen was at least consistent. She opposed the agreements and left the Likud. I did not leave Likud -- they left me," Weizman said. Cohen is now a leader of the ultra-nationalist Tehiya Party. He said he was not afraid to use the term "Palestinians" while everybody else preferred "Arabs of Eretz Yisrael." He added that he would only return to politics if he thought he could implement a large part of his political philosophy. "Until then, I am on the outside," he said.

conference, he told the 600 delegates from the United States, Adnada and Western Europe, "If that murderous neo-Nazi organization" is included in the autonomy talks, "the chair reserved for Israel will be empty."

Begin rejected Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's proposal that the United States recognize the PLO, despite his feelings for "my dear friend Anwar." He added in Yiddish: "Let them talk among themselves."
