which will prove most historic in days to come. As far back as May, 1971, Mayor Edward I. Koch, then Congressman Koch, read into the Congressional Record one of this writer's columns entitled "Why America Will Stand By Israel." In the light of the present situation and because of the questions that have arisen over the AWACS, it may be worth reviewing a portion of that column.

"Despite the current apparent differences which have arisen between the U.S. and Israel on the question of a peace settlement, it is the view of your correspondent that when the situation will come down to brass tacks, in any showdown contingency, both the White House and the Congress -- notwithstanding the State Department Arabists -- will stand firmly by Israel. Indeed, it is to the best interests of America to keep the Jewish State strong in a region most vital to the security of the U.S... The loss of Israel as a Western bulwark would be tantamount to the loss of the Free World's one and only absolutely - sure foothold in the Near East.

"But there is another important reason why this writer believes America and Israel are linked in a common destiny. It is something that goes far beyond the political contingencies of the day. The entire history of America's emergence as a haven for the down-trodden and oppressed of all nations but more particularly of the wandering Jewish peoples, testifies to the prophetic role Providence had destined the new Promised Land to play in the scheme of things for the planet Earth.

"The Founding Fathers who saw a parallel between the history of ancient Israel and their new Zion, founded this nation on a base cemented with Hebraic mortar. The first sovereign U.S. Seal submitted to the Continental Congress by Jefferson, Adams and Franklin let it be recalled, portraying the Egyptians engulfed in the Red Sea with Moses and the Israelites safe on the opposite shore and containing the legend, 'Rebellion to Tyrants Is Obedience to God' -- bears testimony to this fact.

Let us fully understand what the President of the United States meant with these words to the Prime Minister of Israel:

"The United States and Israel share similar beginnings as nations of immigrants, yearning to live in freedom and to fulfill the dreams of our forefathers."

"Our forefathers" -- America's and Israel's. There's no escape; America and Israel are linked in an eternal bond. jerUSAlem.

DISCUSS SADAT'S REGIME

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Defense Minister Ariel Sharon denied local press reports that he had a "tough telephone conversation" from Washington with Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Rafael Eitan criticizing him for remarks about the instability of President Anwar Sadat's regime and the Israeli-Egyptian peace process he reportedly made during the week of Sept. 7 in an address at Givat Olga near Hadera.

Maariv quoted Eitan as saying, "We should not be deluded by false hopes. There is peace with Egypt. But it is in danger. There is unrest in Egypt and Sadat could go and everything would be over. In Egypt everything depends on one man."

The army spokesman denied that Eitan had made these remarks, saying he had been misquoted. But the correspondent of Maariv, who was present at the Givat Olga meeting, said that his report was completely accurate and that he had presented a full literal quotation. The paper supported its correspondent in an editorial which said that a Chief of Staff should be "man enough to admit frankly to mistakes."
