

FRENCH TO HOLD TALKS

PARIS (WNS) -- Jacques Attali, one of President Mitterrand's top advisers, is scheduled to leave for Israel for talks with government members and opposition leaders to explain the French policy in the Middle East and lay the groundwork for Mitterrand's visit to Israel early in 1982, French officials reported.

Attali, a 36-year-old Jewish professor of economy, is reported by diplomatic sources as being a close personal confidant of Mitterrand who considers him as the main advisor on Jewish and Israeli affairs.

Attali's trip to Israel, where he will lecture at the Hebrew University had been planned for some time.
