

STEPHEN WISE AWARDS GIVEN

The originator of "Sesame Street" and other leading television programs for children, the head of the New York Stock Exchange and the board chairman of a leading investment banking firm have been named recipients of the American Jewish Congress Stephen Wise Awards for 1981. They were honored at an award dinner at New York's Grand Hyatt, Park Avenue at Grand Central.

The winners of this year's awards were announced by John W. Kluge, president and chairman of MetroMedia Television, who is serving as chairman of the Stephen Wise Awards Dinner. They are Joan Ganz Cooney, president of the Chilpresident of the Children's Television Workshop; John J. Phelan, Jr., president of the New York Stock Exchange; and Peter G. Peterson, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Lehman Brothers. Although Mr. Peterson and Ms. Cooney are husband and wife, they are receiving their awards for separate achievements.

The Stephen Wise Awards were inaugurated in 1949 on the 75th birthday of the founder and longtime president of the American Jewish Congress. They are given to individuals who have demonstrated moral courage and rendered distinguished service to humanity.

NEW YORK (WNS) -- In view of the near stoppage of all Soviet Jewish emigration and the intensified suppression of Jewish emigration and cultural activities, the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry (GNYCSJ) announced an expanded campaign for more than 100,000 signatures on a protest petition.
