UN AMBASSADOR GIVES "60 MINUTES" INTERVIEW

NEW YORK (WNS) -- Jeane Kirkpatrick, United States Ambassador to the United Nations said in an interview on CBS-TV's "60 Minutes" program that there has "been some concern expressed about Jewish influence within our (U.S.) mission" and about Jewish influence on United States policy. Kirkpatrick said that this concern has been expressed by "other delegations" at the United Nations.

"I think there's a certain amount of concern about the, I know there is, about the number of Jews in the U.S. mission under this administration, in policy making position," the Ambassador said in the television interview with CBS correspondent Mike Wallace. "One Man Plus The Truth Constitutes A Majority"

It's "Beyond Belief"

BY DON TELL

You enter the Frontier Hotel's main show-room and are seated stageside to enjoy Siegfried and Roy's "Beyond Belief." You remember Siegfried and Roy as a 15-minute segment from the Stardust's Lido de Paris and then as stars of MGM's "Hallelujah Hollywood."

Sure they were good entertainment for 15 or 20 minutes but could they carry an hour and a half show on their own?

Right from the start you are emerged in a land of fire and ice, shadow and substance, illusion and reality. Siegfried and Roy encounter a beautiful princess and presto, they change her into a diamond necklace.

But who was that beautiful princess? Why none other than our own Lynette Chappell who has been our friend for over 15 years. We watched her star as the lead dancer in Lido de Paris, then Hallelujah Hollywood and now the Beyond Belief show. What a pleasant surprise.

Now we are bug-eyed watching full grown tigers appear and suddenly disappear. Watching a five-ton elephant vanish in a split second.

We leap into a full-court basketball game performed by the King Charles Troupe. These guys play a 10-minute basketball game on unicycles and perform fast break and slam dunks better than our own "Runnin' Rebels" of UNLV. They are super -- as are the Hsiung Family, martial arts masters, who cause massive shafts of iron to twist and bend before your eyes.

Just when you sit back to relax a huge tiger comes racing right toward you and is swerved at the last moment. A lion and panther pass by and appear and vanish like wind.

Siegfried and Roy live in Las Vegas on a huge estate. They live with their animals 24 hours a day and are known to swim with them in their huge pool.

The only way to describe them is as modern
