ARMY LEAVES SINAI THREE YEARS AFTER TREATY

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- There was no formal flag lowering or hand over ceremonies, the Israeli army simply left the final portion of the Sinai on April 25 as scheduled, exactly three years after signing the peace treaty with Egypt and the Camp David accords. It was also just two months under 15 years since capturing the area in the Six-Day-War of 1967. The army's departure was in a demonstration of the sacrifices Israel was making for the sake of peace with its largest Arab neighbor.

Apart from the brief 10 - minute ceremony at Ophira at which the Israeli Air Force lowered the flag and the last helicopter left the ground on its way back to Israel at 7:30 in the morning, the only timetable for the steps in the total evacuation was that "the last man should be out of the area and back across the old-new border by noon," an army spokesman solemnly declared. A multinational peace keeping force will now patrol the area.

Within minutes of the last Israeli soldier leaving Ophira, Egyptian officials were putting up new signs at the nearby airfield, saying in Arabic and English: "Sharm-e-Sheikh" -- its old name prior to its Israeli take-over 15 years ago. By mid-afternoon Egyptian flags were raised at the three border crossing point of Taba near Eilat, the future of which

"One Man Plus The Truth

Happy Anniversary
Israel

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a personal greeting from Prime Minister Menachem Begin on the occasion of Israel's thirty-fourth independence day).

From Jerusalem, our eternal and indivisible capital, I send my heartfelt greetings to the Jewish communities throughout the diaspora on the occasion of the thirty-fourth anniversary of Israel's independence in Eretz Israel.

Yom Ha'Atzmaut - Independence Day - is a universal Jewish festival commemorating the victory of the few over the many, right over wrong, justice over might. After the most terrible catastrophe ever to have befallen our once homeless, and helpless people, and the heroic battle for national self-liberation in Eretz Israel, we have lived to see the day when the flag of Jewish liberty has been raised again in the land of our forefathers. This day shall forever be celebrated as one of the greatest in the annals of our ancient people, indeed of mankind.

Israel has remained faithful to its Declaration of Independence. We have brought home millions of our scattered sisters and brothers, we have built up the land and made it green, we have gained national vigor with each passing year, we have renewed our heritage. Not since the days of the Maccabees has Israel enjoyed such strength.

Five times our enemies launched war against us in their bloody attempt to destroy our independence. Five times we repelled the aggressors and won the day. The best of our sons sacrificed their lives so that we might celebrate this day. Their memory shall live on forever.

Israel's unflinching resolve to pursue the cause of peace with security was consummated in the signing of the Treaty of Peace with Egypt. This milestone constitutes, no doubt, a turning point in the history of our two countries and of the Middle East. We made great and painful
