

LAS VEGAS MAN DONATES $600,000

STANLEY KORMAN

Stanley Korman, a Las Vegas real estate developer, has committed for $600,000 to the American Technion Society, announced Lester Deutsch, Western Regional President. Over $350,000 in laser equipment has been purchased from this fund and is on the way to Haifa, home of Israel Institute of Technology.

"Mr. Korman is an engineer by profession," stated Lester Deutsch, and "after several talks by Korman with Technion professors, he concluded that Israel needs this equipment to carry out research activities and laser research applications for peace as well as defense of the country.

Over fifty years ago, Stanley Korman left Poland for Israel. In Poland he acquired an engineering degree from university, and was chief administrator of a factory of several hundred employees. After witnessing numerous anti-Semitic acts he left for Palestine. In 1924, when Technion opened its doors as Israel's first university, Mr. Korman was present at the ceremonies and worked briefly at the Technion.

After two years in Palestine, Korman left for Australia and New Zealand, where he established several textile plants and built a prosperous construction business. In 1967, he left Australia for Las Vegas, where he continued his successful career in the construction industry. In a recent meeting with Major General Horev, President of Technion, Mr. Korman expressed his concern over the need of Israel to speed up its program to develop high technology industries. He informed Horev, "I will do my part, and Technion must continue to be in the vanguard, graduating a sufficient number of scientists and engineers to man and develop new industries for the country. I am concerned that Israel has the means to be economically secure before the end of the century. I make this gift to Technion and I hope others will join with me in creating high technology industries for Israel." Stanley's interest in Israel follows in the footsteps of his father, Abraham, who was a leader of the Zionist movement in Poland. A brother was instrumental in founding the famed Great Synagogue of Tel Aviv.
