

CONDITIONS FOR PEACE

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- The Cabinet announced its conditions for peace in Lebanon are that the Palestine Liberation Organization surrender its arms to the Lebanese army in west Beirut and depart from Beirut and Lebanon into Syria under a safe conduct guarantee by the Israel army. The take over of all of Beirut by the Lebanese army was the key to conditions for political negotiations to begin leading to the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Lebanon. Israel said it would welcome the participation of the United States in those negotiations.

The Cabinet statement, read to reporters by Cabinet Secretary Dan Meridor after the weekly Cabinet meeting, was said to be unanimous in the Cabinet. The Cabinet also agreed to maintain the latest cease-fire around Beirut as long as the enemy does the same.

The Cabinet meeting was held against a background of persistent reports that the government was sharply divided over whether to launch an assault on the PLO in west Beirut, the course strongly advocated by Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, or to let international diplomacy resolve the issues. The debate was aggravated by fears that the June 25 resignation of Secretary of State Alexander Haig and the designation of George Schultz as his successor may tilt U.S. Middle East policy away from Israel and toward the Arab viewpoint.

While the Cabinet statement was read to reporters, public opinion against the continuing operation in Lebanon appeared to be mounting. The Labor Alignment's political forum demanded that Israel refrain from entering west Beirut to destroy the remaining PLO forces there. Also, some 300 Labor doves demonstrated outside the Prime Minister's Office calling for an end to the war and the firing of Sharon.

Most of them stressed that it had taken much soul-searching both to organize and attend the demonstration while soldiers were still on the frontlines. But they stressed that any national consensus which had existed in favor of the original limited aims of clearing a 40 kilometer (25 miles) belt of terrorist artillery, had disappeared with the extension of the fighting to the suburbs of Beirut.
