LARRY HENNESSEY FILES FOR SHERIFF

LARRY HENNESSEY

Former North Las Vegas Police Detective Larry Hennessey announced his candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Clark County.

Hennessey, a veteran of 23 years with the police department, retired last year.

In declaring his candidacy, Hennessey said, "It is clearly time for a 'change,' in the Metropolitan Police Department, not just a 'swap' of favored personnel and out of date philosophies."

He said Metro badly needs a realistic and objective evaluation of its overall operating policies and believes that his extensive background in all phases of police work in the Metropolitan area qualifies him to make that evaluation.

"The North Las Vegas Police Department is one of the largest police forces in the state, with the lowest crime rate. It's officers are acutely aware of area crime problems and are very familiar with the inner workings of Metro, having worked side by side for many, many years."

"The advantage I have," he said, "is that as familiar as I am with Metro, I've been sort of 'on the outside looking in' which gives me a definite advantage and a more objective perspective."

Hennessey said the Police Department should be about the business of enforcing law and order, not playing 'footsie' with friends and friends of friends who lack critical knowledge and experience in fulfilling their daily responsibilities.

"The people of Clark County deserve better, and I think you're going to see a change come election day."

We need to re-establish the policy where law and order comes first and politics is left up to professional politicians, he echoed.

Hennessey began his police career in the patrol division and moved quickly through the ranks to detective, where he handled all facets of police work, homicides, traffic fatalities, auto theft, burglary, credit card and check fraud. He was also the first full time bailiff for the City of North Las Vegas court system.

Hennessey has been married to his wife Wynona for 27 years. They have one married daughter and one granddaughter. The couple resides at 6900 Old Castle.

ROBERT WOLF WANTS CHANGES IN JUSTICE SYSTEM

said Mr. Wolf, "the treatment of minor traffic offenses as criminal matters further congests an already over-burdened criminal justice system. Presently, everyone cited must appear in court.

Citations should be changed to designate a fine for the minor offense and the citizen receiving the citation should have the opportunity to admit the offense by simply mailing to the Justice's Court the designated fine. This procedure would eliminate the need to go to court for those persons who want to admit the offense."

Mr. Wolf has handled cases in every level of the State and Federal court system. It was a little more than a year ago that he successfully represented entertainer Redd Foxx in the United States Supreme Court in a divorce action involving Foxx's wife, Joi, who was represented by celebrity lawyer, Marvin Mitchelson.

Mr. Wolf is a native Las Vegas and UCLA law graduate.

BILL DAVIS SAYS LETS MAKE A CHANGE

"The Constable's office is the Number One Law Enforcement in the organized Township to which I want to be elected."

On September 14, 1982, you the voters of Las Vegas Township will select a team of candidates who will be exercising various duties which effect the daily lives of our community. We do not need 4 more years of what we have experienced in the past 4.

Most of the candidates who have filed have had little or no experience in the Constable's office.

"I would also like to invite you as voters to examine my record which will show I have lived in the state of Nevada for 53 years. I have lived in the Las Vegas Township since 1947 during that time I have been actively involved in all phases of law enforcement. I am a Deputy Constable and have worked fulltime in the Constable office under Woody Cole from 1961 until his death. With the many years of actual experience in law enforcement I believe that qualifies me to hold the most important office in the Las Vegas Township.

I am sure you will agree that the rapid population growth together with current economic trends dictates that office holders devote more time and effort to the discharge of their official duties.

I will when elected restore full power to the Constable's office and do what I need to do to bring back safety to our homes, businesses and streets of our community. I need the support of you and your friends on September 14, 1982."

Holder Files For County Clerk

Las Vegas businessman P. R. (Paul) Holder has announced his candidacy for County Clerk. Holder, a former gubernatorial candidate who last year was narrowly defeated in his bid for City Commissioner, said he is running for County Clerk because that office is presently badly managed because of entrenched bureaucratic policies.

"When elected," said Holder, "I intend to streamline and modernize the office of County Clerk and make it more responsive to the citizens of Clark County."

Holder said that for minimal cost he could improve the efficiency of the County Clerk's office 100%.

According to Holder, he has developed a plan to do exactly that. By computerizing the total clerical function of the County Clerk's office, the cost of running that office would be substantially reduced. We must develop the type of vision that will perceive new solutions for old problems.

Holder is 39 years old, married, and has one son. For the past 11 years he has owned and managed Stu-Mar Bootery in downtown Las Vegas. He has resided in Las Vegas for the past 18 years. Before coming to Las Vegas, he attended Rutgers University. He is a member of the Loyal Order of the Moose, the Las Vegas Press Club, and the Legionnaire No. 168.
