

THE PLO PROPAGANDA MILL

Following the press conference recently in Geneva in which the World Council of Churches disclosed a report by a five - member delegation which the WCC had sent to south Lebanon in the wake of the Israeli "Peace for Galilee"

ANT-JEWISH TERRORISM IN FRANCE

The latest assault on the Jewish community of France should invoke a deep sense of outrage and condemnation from all Americans. This incident is another of the many examples of international terrorism and its murderous attempts to disrupt national stability and order and to use intimidation as an influencing factor. The attack on France's best known Jewish restaurant in the Jewish quarter of Paris, was particularly horrendous because of the blatant disregard of innocent civilian life and its clearly anti - Jewish posture.

The attack at Goldenberg's restaurant in the heart of the Rue de Rosiers, Paris's old Jewish quarter in which poor Jews have lived for more than 100 years, occurred at the lunch hour when the shop was crowded with people. Four men, waiting in the restaurant, suddenly drew out from under their coats submachineguns and sprayed the large restaurant and delicatessen store. The terrorists continued shooting while running through the maze of narrow alleys, leaving behind a trail of dead and wounded. When the smoke cleared, six people, two American tourists among them, were killed while 22 remain hospitalized, many critically.

Many officials in the Jewish community of France feel that the incident is a result of the anti - Israeli posture of the government of President Francois Mitterrand in the conflict in Lebanon. Others have blamed the press for its slanted coverage of the Lebanon fighting which has created a climate of incitement. Nevertheless, this cowardly attack by terrorists on civilians removed from the fighting and warfare of the Middle East is a problem the Mitterrand Administration must tackle immediately. But if the French government is unable to protect its citizens, the Jews of France may have to resort to other means to secure their interests and livelihood.

ARGOV RETURNED TO ISRAEL

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- After more than two months of treatment in a London hospital following an attack on him June 3 which sparked off the war in Lebanon, Israel's Ambassador to Britain, Shlomo Argov, returned to Israel and is now being treated in the neurological department of the Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem.

Argov suffered severe head injuries in the attack.

He was taken from the London hospital to the airport to board an El Al jet under tight security precautions. He traveled to Israel on a stretcher, accompanied by his wife, a doctor and a nurse. Argov will still require an extensive period of treatment and rehabilitation for the partial paralysis he is said to suffer.

Argov is reported to know that Israel has been fighting a war in Lebanon, but it is not known whether he is aware that it was the terrorist campaign, a Swiss journalist commented: "I am not going to report on their allegations because I can see they are biased." Nevertheless, the WCC report received media coverage, as any report by a responsible organization should. But as it turned out their findings contained erroneous reports adding grist to the mill for the PLO propaganda machine.

The WCC which comprises 400 churches of the Protestant, Greek Orthodox and Catholic faiths, blamed Israel for the plight of the refugees and homeless and demanded an immediate lifting of its siege of West Beirut. The WCC seems to have conspicuously relieved the Arab states of any blame for the Palestinian problem and also failed to mention the involvement of any other party besides Israel with having inflicted suffering on the people of Lebanon. It has obliterated quickly any memory of the military terrorists' training centers the PLO used Palestinian refugee camps for or the placing of munitions dumps in the basements of schools, mosques and churches. Furthermore, since when has the Syrian occupation of a once sovereign

GREECE HAS ANTI-SEMITISM

AMSTERDAM (WNS) -- Pro - government newspapers in Greece are engaged in an unparalleled anti-Semitic campaign, such as a charge that Jews are behind vast forest fires that have plagued Greece, according to the Athens correspondent of NRC Handelsblad, the leading Dutch daily.

Correspondent Franz van Hasselt also reported that Israel's military campaign in Lebanon has brought an intensification of the anti-Semitic reports. The charge of Jewish "complicity" in the forest fires appeared in "Avriani," a popular daily, in a page one article.

Lebanon been rewritten from the WCC history books?

The WCC's claim that Israel has barred humanitarian aid from reaching south Lebanon has been reported by officials as being contrary to the facts. Also widely reported, to the contrary of the WCC report, is that Red Cross representatives have been granted access to visit terrorists detained in camps in south Lebanon by the Israeli forces. No mention in the report either of the rehabilitation efforts underway now in liberated south Lebanon.

The anti - Israel stance of the delegation's report heaps fallacy upon fallacy to the actual events in Lebanon and presents the occupying PLO as some sort of angelic savior to the people in the region. The WCC, beyond all rational reasoning, appears to place the blame for the thousands of innocent people killed prior to the Israeli action on the shoulders of the Israeli people. The WCC should re-evaluate the credibility of its delegation, recheck its files, refresh its memory and stop pontificating to the world for the PLO that terrorized Lebanon and inflicted untold suffering on the people of Israel and Lebanon.

I KNOW WE SHOULD GO TO THE FUNERAL HOME

BUT, I NEVER KNOW WHAT TO SAY.

The fact is that nothing can be said to express adequately our loss or make the bereaved family feel better. But that doesn't mean that a visit and an expression of sympathy won't be helpful. Bereaved persons tell us that it's not the words that are helpful but that someone cared enough to go to the funeral home and express their sympathy in person. Sometimes just a hug or holding your friend's hand briefly is a good way to say "I care." When a friend loses a loved one go to the funeral home. Express your sympathy and offer your assistance. You'll be appreciated for caring.
