ISRAEL TO ESTABLISH NEW SETTLEMENTS ON WEST BANK

NEW CONGRESS WILL BE FRIENDLY TO ISRAEL

BEVERLY HILLS, California -- The American Jewish Committee's Washington Representative predicted that the new Congress would be "basically friendly" to Israel in the coming months, but he cautioned that unqualified American support for Israel on all issues could not be taken for granted and he admonished those concerned about Israel to heed American thinking if they wanted to champion Israel's cause effectively.

Hyman Bookbinder asserted also that, despite its rejection by both Israel and the Arab nations, President Reagan's peace plan would be the "basic vehicle for Middle East diplomacy" in the months ahead.

"How long and how tightly the Reagan Administration will 'stay the course' with Mr. Reagan's September peace initiative remains to be seen," said Mr. Bookbinder, "but it would appear imprudent for any of the parties to believe that Washington will soon abandon the plan."

However, he emphasized, President Reagan's plan "does not necessarily affect other actions that will require attention by the Administration: the Camp David autonomy talks, the search for a new and free Lebanon, proposed arms sales to Jordan and

ISRAEL'S UN AMBASSADOR HAD MISUNDERSTANDING ON MATTER

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Israel reaffirmed that it will continue undaunted its settlement policy on the West Bank following a report on the Voice of Israel Radio that Israel's Ambassador to the U.S., Moshe Arens, had suggested to Premier Menachem Begin that Israel suspend for a six month period the establishment of new settlements on the occupied territories.

According to the Radio broadcast, Arens made that proposal in mid-September. He said Israel should announce suspension of further settlements for six months and that Begin should invite King Hussein of Jordan to the negotiating table. The radio report said Arens suggested that such moves would improve relations with the U.S. According to the report, Begin responded briefly, saying that Hussein would never

Our Hats Off To Sen. Chic Hecht

BY DON TELL

Chic who? There are probably many people still scratching their heads trying to figure out what happened. Who was this upstart Chic Hecht who came out of the blue to dethrone Howard Cannon from his U.S. Senate seat of 24 - years? Why this was the biggest political upset in the country.

Didn't Mr. Cannon have the fight of his life in narrowly defeating Congressman Jim Santini in the Democratic primary? So how could he lose to Chic Hecht, owner of Chic Hecht, Women's Apparel on East Fremont Street?

Every poll showed Cannon far ahead. But Chic Hecht won the general election by just under 6,000 votes. Why? How?

Some will say the primary took an awful toll on Howard Cannon. Accusations of cozy land deals, alleged bribe attempts and the implication the Senator became a wealthy man while in office were tossed around. Mr. Can-
