SYRIA MUST RETURN POWS

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Israel continues to insist that Syria must return Israeli soldiers captured during the war in Lebanon before there can be any settlement for the evacuation of the Israel Defense Force from Lebanon.

Premier Menachem Begin made this clear in his meeting with Morris Draper, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs, who is a special U.S. envoy for negotiations on Lebanon.

Syria has so far rejected all appeals by Israel for information about the fate of three Israeli POWs.

Draper told Begin and Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir that Syria has also ignored his appeals on the POWs and that it also has prevented International Red Cross Committee representatives from visiting the soldiers.

Draper was in Beirut prior to his visit to Jerusalem.

MOVE DEFEATED TO SUSPEND ISRAEL FROM UN

UNITED NATIONS (WNS) -- Israel's credentials to the General Assembly were approved after the Assembly decided to sidetrack an Iranian proposal to suspend Israel. The approval of Israel's credentials followed the adoption of a motion by Finland not to vote on Iran's proposal by a vote of 75 - 9 with 31 abstentions. The United States, Israel and Egypt, as well as the European countries, were among the countries which supported the Finnish motion. The Soviet Union and its allies joined the Arabs in abstaining. Iran, Libya and Algeria were among the nine which opposed the motion.

The vote not to challenge Israel's credentials ended several weeks of an anti-Israeli campaign here during which the Arabs threatened to seek Israel's suspension from the 37th session of the Assembly. The Arab and Moslem countries succumbed to American pressure and threats that the U.S. would walk out of the Assembly and stop paying its 25 percent share of the U.N.'s $600 million budget if Israel were suspended, and decided not to seek the denial of Israel's credentials. Instead the Arabs issued a letter to the President of the General Assembly, Imre Hallai of Hungary, expressing "reservation" over Israel credentials. The reservation, the Arabs explained, stemmed from the fact that Israel had refused to abide by UN resolutions, its continued occupation of Arab territories and its annexation of East Jerusalem and the West Bank. They also charged Israel with committing "genocide against the Palestinians," in Lebanon.

But in a surprise move that embarrassed the Arabs, Iran decided to go ahead and demand that the issue of Israel's credentials be voted by the Assembly. Iran said it did not believe the U.S. would indeed retaliate against the UN if Israel were suspended. The Iranian ambassador said if the U.S. stopped its payments to the UN, Iran and Libya would pay the full amount instead. The Assembly's decision to approve Israel's credentials along with 89 other member - states assures Israel its seat until next year's Assembly session when its credentials could be challenged once again.

I KNOW WE SHOULD GO TO THE FUNERAL HOME

BUT, I NEVER KNOW WHAT TO SAY.

The fact is that nothing can be said to express adequately our loss or make the bereaved family feel better. But that doesn't mean that a visit and an expression of sympathy won't be helpful. Bereaved persons tell us that it's not the words that are helpful but that someone cared enough to go to the funeral home and express their sympathy in person. Sometimes just a hug or holding your friend's hand briefly is a good way to say "I care." When a friend loses a loved one go to the funeral home. Express your sympathy and offer your assistance. You'll be appreciated for caring.
