

NAZI WITHDRAWS APPEAL

TORONTO (WNS) -- Albert Helmut Rauca was disclosed to have withdrawn his appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada against lower court orders that he be extradited to West Germany to face charges of wartime mass murders of Jews. Rauca, 74, a Canadian citizen since 1956, was convicted in absentia in Holland for the murder of several persons. Barring a personal petition to the Canadian Justice Ministry, Rauca, a retired hotel manager, will be extradited to face trial for the murder of 11,584 Jews in German-occupied Lithuania between 1941 and 1943.

of Jerusalem in the Six - Day - War and that the capital now provides free access and entrance to all. Sharon also said that the role of a "Jewish General" is that he must be "a commander devoted fully to his country and ready to take responsibility." He added: "If we, the Jews, lost the war, we will be exterminated. This a Jewish General should know."

SWEDISH ANTI-SEMITIC SENTENCED

NEW YORK (WNS) -- An anti - Semitic agitator in Sweden has been sentenced to 10 months in prison for disseminating hate material. The conviction of Ditlieb Felderer, a key adherent of the Institute for Historical Review (IHR) a U.S.-based outfit seeking to disprove the Nazi Holocaust, was aided by information provided by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. The Swedish government prosecutor, Torsten Jonsson, in a letter to the ADL's European Office director, Shimon Samuels, thanked the ADL for the information.

Felderer, who resides in the Stockholm suburb of Taby, publishes anti - Semitic newsletters entitled "Jewish Information," "Bible Researcher" and "Arab News" which are distributed throughout Europe. According to the information supplied to the prosecutor, Felderer was the source of mailings to leaders of the European Jewish community which contained pieces of fat and locks of hair with an enclosed letter asking recipients if they could identify the contents as Hungarian Jews gassed in Auschwitz. Felderer is also known to have called Jewish groups using the pseudonym "David Cohen" to seek out information to supposedly counter revisionist claims.

declared. Sharon, who was interrupted with applause more than a dozen times during the two - hour dialogue with Kahane, appeared relaxed and good-spirited. On the 13 questions covering a broad range of topics Sharon was asked, he gave the following replies:

* On Israel's operation "Peace for Galilee," he said that many Israeli casualties were a result of efforts by the Israel Defense Force to prevent Lebanese civilian casualties.

* Israel did not "invade" Lebanon but went there "with a clear purpose...to destroy, to eliminate the PLO terrorists who were killing, massacring and raping Lebanese civilians."

* Referring to the Israel Commission of Inquiry report into the Beirut refugee camps massacre by Christian Phalangists which resulted in his resignation as Defense Minister, Sharon said it was the first time anywhere that a Defense Minister left his post "due to actions by others...Israel was not responsible directly and not indirectly."

* American Jews have a right to voice concern over Israeli policies that deal with social, scientific and cultural developments. But he said when it comes to Israel's security needs, Israelis should not be pressured by world Jewry to any position since it is the Israeli who is fighting and serving to defend the Jewish State.

* Sharon reaffirmed his commitment to continue Jewish settlement activities on the West Bank while pointing out its strategic importance. He said Jewish settlement was the best way to prevent the establishment of a "second" Palestinian state, a reference to his persistent claims that Jordan is a Palestinian state.

* Asked about a solution to the future status of Jerusalem, Sharon said: "The problem of Jerusalem has already been solved." He said this was accomplished in 1967 after Israel gained control over all

HEAVY FIGHTING IN LEBANON

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Seven Israeli soldiers were wounded when an explosive charge detonated close to their vehicle on the coastal road near Damour south of Beirut, a military spokesman reported. They were the latest casualties since one Israeli soldier was killed and nine were wounded as they were caught in cross fire between warring Druze villagers and Christian Phalangists in the Shouf mountain region east of Beirut. Meanwhile, Lebanon has become a battleground again. Heavy fighting, described as the worst since the heights of the war last summer, broke out in Beirut and in the Shouf mountains to the east. Christian radio stations in Beirut reported that shells and Soviet - made missiles were falling on Christian east Beirut, mainly from areas in the surrounding hills held by Syrian forces. According to the reports, 24 persons were killed in Beirut and more than 100 wounded. Moslem west Beirut was also hit by artillery and mortar shells.
