to see a free Le- ties and war between Israel and Syria, Is- rael's response to the situation, however, will continue to be cautious and we will continue to take all measures of alert- ness to meet any eventuality."

MINYONAIRES NEWS

Progress is synonymous with a 'FIRST'. An infant learns to walk with its 'FIRST' step; before Neil Armstrong took his historic walk on the moon, scientists had to 'FIRST' get him up there, and this took years of preparation. There is always a 'FIRST' before we accomplish or do anything; and so, in this vein, THE MINYONAIRES of TEMPLE BETH SHOLOM took their 'FIRST' step forward by presenting in the Entratter Hall a gift to the BAT MITZVAH girl JILL GORDON.

Jill's grandpa who is a Minyonaire and his lovely wife were both surprised and elated as were Jill's parents. We wish them again a hearty Mazel - Tov.

Minyonaires that made news this month were: NORM SHLISKY -- he was elected to the Temple Beth Shalom Board of Directors, HERB BROWN -- he was appointed as Head Librarian for The Desert Springs Hospital.

TEL AVIV -- RACHEL MESHEL (RIGHT), WIFE OF THE SECRETARY - GENERAL OF HISTADRUT, HOSTED A LUNCHEON RECENTLY FOR VISITING WOMEN TRADE UNION LEADERS AND WIVES OF LABOR LEADERS. AT LEFT IS MRS. LANE KIRKLAND, WIFE OF THE AFL-CIO PRESIDENT; CENTER IS MASHA LUBELSKY, SECRETARY - GENERAL OF NA'AMAT - PIONEER WOMEN, ISRAEL'S LARGEST WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION.

Na'amat - Pioneer Women has dedicated a study hall in its Ayanot Agricultural High School near Ness Ziona, Israel, to Emil Grunzweig, the Peace Now activist who was killed during a demonstration in Jerusalem in March.

In announcing the honor, Masha Lubelsky, Na'amat's secretary - general, noted that Mr. Grunzweig was a teacher and researcher at the Van Leer Institute, where he was involved in projects on behalf of underprivileged children and young people.

"Although we are not a part of the Peace Now movement," Mrs. Lubelsky said, "we identify with Mr. Grunzweig and his work. We deeply mourn his tragic death and hope that the future will bring freedom to all of us -- freedom from want, from violence and war, from persecution."

The death of Mr. Grunzweig marred an otherwise peaceful demonstration that followed the publication of the findings of the government's Commission of Inquiry into the massacre of Palestinians in Beirut last fall.

I KNOW WE SHOULD GO TO THE FUNERAL HOME

BUT, I NEVER KNOW WHAT TO SAY.

The fact is that nothing can be said to express adequately our loss or make the bereaved family feel better. But that doesn't mean that a visit and an expression of sympathy won't be helpful. Bereaved persons tell us that it's not the words that are helpful but that someone cared enough to go to the funeral home and express their sympathy in person. Sometimes just a hug or holding your friend's hand briefly is a good way to say "I care." When a friend loses a loved one go to the funeral home. Express your sympathy and offer your assistance. You'll be appreciated for caring.
