The 1983 Sea of Galilee Festival

Sea of Galilee, Israel: — One of the world's most beautiful and tranquil spots, the Sea of Galilee will be the site of the 1983 Sea of Galilee festival during July. Performers from Israel and around the world, including country music USA, will entertain tens of thousands of spectators in the city of Tiberias and at various locations around the lake.

NEW YORK (WNS) — The New York City Holocaust Commission announced the appointment of David Blumenfeld of Great Neck, NY as executive director. The commission was initiated by Mayor Edward Koch to create "a living memorial" in the city to the six million Jewish victims of the Holocaust. Blumenfeld is giving up his present position as a director of the Israel Bond Organization to assume full time duties with the memorial commission.

Poll Shows Support For Concessions

Tel Aviv (WNS) — The latest poll by the Modi'in — Ezrachi Institute showed that 52 percent of the Israeli population is prepared to make territorial concessions on the West Bank in return for peace with Jordan. The poll, conducted for the newspaper Mariv, was published recently.

According to the poll, 42.8 percent of the populace opposed any concessions. Among those willing to trade territory for peace, 37.4 percent would give up "certain parts" of the West Bank; 11.6 percent would give up all of the territory, except East Jerusalem and 3.5 percent would relinquish the entire West Bank including East Jerusalem and the Old City. Of those polled, 4.3 percent gave no opinion.

The government meanwhile announced a comprehensive plan to rehabilitate Arab refugee camps in the territories. The recommendations, drafted by a ministerial committee headed by Minister — Without — Portfolio Mordechai Ben Porat, were submitted to the Cabinet for a final decision. The plans call for rebuilding some refugee camps on their present sites, relocating others and closing down some whose residents would be settled in nearby towns. There were no estimates of what this project would cost. Government sources said it would be financed by foreign aid, mainly from the U.S. and the World Bank.
