Don't Miss "Mickey Finn Show" At Imperial Palace Lounge

100 degrees of laughter is the forecast for the showroom of the IMPERIAL PALACE every day but Sunday. There's no better way to beat the heat than to take a seat in the cool Imperial Theater and let THE MICKEY FINN SHOW wash over you with their zany antics and first-class music. Whether its Rinky-tink, Ragtime, Dixieland, or Roaring 20's, Mickey Finn is a master of music sure to set your toes to tapping and your hands to clapping.

What makes this show the roaring success it is may be hard to defind, but it's impossible to deny. Fred "Mickey" Finn has had his finger on the pulsebeat of America from the day he hit 21 years of age and opened his own nightclub (Mickey Finn's) in San Diego. After 14 sensational years there, he moved his band to Las Vegas where he has continued to write entertainment history by hosting the longest running comedy show to ever play in the city. Showtimes for the MICKEY FINN SHOW are 2 and 4 daily except Sundays. Price is $8.95 (plus tax) which includes two drinks.

Sasha Has Style at MGM

Las Vegas is a town where performers come and go, but one who has stayed for a long time is violinist Sasha Semenov. Originally from the New York area, Sasha has been in Las Vegas since 1959 and has been playing at the MGM Grand since it opened —ten years ago. He performs in the four gourmet rooms and the parisian bar there.
