Dear Michael,

At this season of spiritual renewal, our thoughts and prayers are linked with the people and Land of Israel. We share a vision of a renewed and redeemed nation where our brethren can flourish in peace and well-being.

The transformation of Israel from a desolate land to a country of forests and farms has been a miracle of our times. We pray for the peace that will make further progress possible and enable us to fulfill our destiny as a people rooted to the soil and traditions of Eretz Yisrael.

We wish all of our supporters a most healthy and propersous New Year.

Charlotte Jacobson
President
Jewish National Fund of America

Dear Michael:

On the occasion of the Jewish New Year, 5744, allow me to reiterate the Republican Party's continued support for the State of Israel.

The Republican commitment to Israel goes back more than 60 years; well before the State of Israel was established. At that time, the idea of a Jewish homeland in Palestine was supported by Republicans in the U.S. House and Senate.

The commitment outlined in 1922 Republican Resolutions has been reaffirmed in every Republican Convention platform since Israel's creation in 1948. Again and again, the Republican Party has called for continued economic and military assistance for our most dependable ally in the volatile Mideast region. The 1980 Republican platform states, "the sovereignty, security, and integrity of the State of Israel is a moral imperative of the United States. Republicans reaffirm our fundamental and enduring commitment to this principle. We will continue to honor our nation's commitment through political, economic, diplomatic, and military aid."

Just less than six months ago, before the American Gathering of the Holocaust Survivors, President Reagan reaffirmed his commitment to the security of Israel. "As a man whose heart is with you -- and as President of a people you are now so much a part of -- I promise you that the security of your safe havens, here and in Israel, will never be compromised."

It is the tradition of friendship and support, and the common goal of a negotiated, lasting peace in the Middle East that keeps the United States and Israel standing tall together. It is a bond which cannot be broken.

L'Shanah Tovah, may the New Year bring a lasting peace to all mankind.

Sincerely,

Frank J. Fahrenkopf, Jr.
Chairman, Republican
National Committee

Rosh Hashannah Greetings

Over 10,000 Russian refuseniks will receive Rosh Hashannah gift packages prepared by Na'amat-Pioneer Women, the largest women's organization in Israel. (Above) Young volunteers at the Na'amat-Pioneer Women Community Center in Haifa interrupted their summer vacations to assist in this nation-wide project.

For 10,000 Russian Jews

Na'amat-Pioneer Women, the largest women's organization in Israel, coordinated a nation-wide campaign to send greetings from Israel to refuseniks in the Soviet Union. Personal letters and gift packages have been mailed to 10,000 Russian Jews in time for the Rosh Hashannah holiday.

"This project creates a supportive bond between Jews in Israel and Jews in the Soviet Union," explains Ronnie Breslow, Jews in Distress Chairman of Pioneer Women/Na'amat, the American sister organization of Na'amat-Pioneer Women. "For Russian refuseniks, Jewish holidays are reminders of what they don't have - freedom to live where they want and freedom to practice their religion."

During the summer, volunteers gathered at Na'AMAT—Pioneer Women community centers and women's clubs to assemble the shipments. The gift packages contained Israeli products such as candy, records, picture postcards, and a special New Year's greeting.
