Las Vegas Hilton's Jonas Entertains At San Gennaro Feast

Las Vegas Hilton's singing sensation JONAS is joining the list of celebrities set to entertain at the San Gennaro Feast September 16 to 25. Known for his 4 million selling hit "Hang On Sloopy" while lead singer with the McCoys, Jonas will entertain at the feast with some of his 20 impressions — Neil Diamond, Tom Jones, Rod Stewart to name just a few. As a two year resident, Jonas feels a part of Las Vegas and will donate his time to help this event earn money for United Cerebral Palsy. The concept of the Feast was brought from Naples, Italy, by immigrants and has been celebrated in New York City's "Little Italy" for 57 years. San Gennaro is the Patron Saint of Naples. This devotion has grown among Italian-Americans and their descendants whether from Naples or not. For the past three years in Las Vegas, they have brought Brother Richard DeCarlo, one of the early founders of the feast in New York City to assist in co-ordinating this feast.

I KNOW
WE SHOULD GO TO THE FUNERAL HOME

BUT, I NEVER KNOW WHAT TO SAY.

The fact is that nothing can be said to express adequately our loss or make the bereaved family feel better. But that doesn't mean that a visit and an expression of sympathy won't be helpful. Bereaved persons tell us that it's not the words that are helpful but that someone cared enough to go to the funeral home and express their sympathy in person. Sometimes just a hug or holding your friend's hand briefly is a good way to say "I care." When a friend loses a loved one go to the funeral home. Express your sympathy and offer your assistance. You'll be appreciated for caring.
