

Local ORT Women Attend National Convention In Los Angeles

(L-R Seated) Etta Liebowitz Cohen, Betty Bloom & Florence Bloom (L-R Standing) Faye Steinberg, Rose Dominguez, Mildred Cohen, Fran Sanoff, Ruth Eisenberg-past national president-Women's American ORT & Freida DeWolf

(L-R) Mildred Cohen, president & Rose Dominguez, delegate of the Southern Nevada Business and Career Chapter proudly accepting their national award.

The Greater Las Vegas Area Council represented by Fran Sanoff, President; Mildred Cohen, Freida DeWolf and Betty Bloom, National Board Members; as well as Delegates Etta Liebowitz and Florence Bloom from the Las Vegas Chapter; Micki Hecht from the Oasis Chapter and Rose Dominguez from the Southern Nevada Business & Career Chapter attended the recent Women's American ORT 27th Biennial Convention held at the Westin

(L-R) Fran Sanoff, president of the Greater Las Vegas Area Council; Florence Rosenthal, national officer & Nathan Gould, Executive Vice President & National Executive Director.

Bonaventure Hotel in Los Angeles.

A most moving moment was the presentation of the Human Rights Award to Nazi Hunter — Beate Klarsfeld. The delegates analyzed the past and charted the future including: the establishment of the International School in the Galilee, the expansion of the ORT School in Marseilles and the expansion of an American presence with the Los Angeles ORT Technical Institute.

Micki Hecht points with pride to awards won by the Greater Las Vegas Area Council.